UP to 2,000 took to the streets of Dorchester on Saturday to protest against proposals which could see the removal of some children's services from the County Hospital.

Weymouth and Bridport residents joined those from Dorchester and surrounding villages to make their voices heard in what was the biggest public demonstration the county town has seen in modern times.

A further march is now being planned in the near future to keep up the pressure to take the proposals for Dorchester's children's services out of the consultation document altogether.

Starting from the Top o' Town the tail of the procession was only just in High West Street when the leaders had stopped at the bottom of South Street – protest banners could be seen the entire length of town's main shopping street.

Protest leader Naomi Patterson led the march with her son, George, 7, who uses Dorchester's children's services after contracting meningitis. Alongside her was Bridport campaigner Ros Kayes and Dorchester's Alistair Chisholm.

He told the crowd that the Dorset Clinical Commissioning Group, which is talking about the changes, that they needed a lesson in geography – pointing out it would be better to focus services for children in the middle of the county not at the eastern edge, in Bournemouth or Poole.

Ros Kayes warned that one cut could lead to more – and said that maternity services could also eventually be at risk in Dorchester.

"We must send the message that we need to keep the Special Care Baby Unit and the Kingfisher (children's) Ward at Dorchester."

The Clinical Commissioning Group have urged people to take part in their consultation which looks at moving longer term paediatric cases to either Bournemouth or Poole and reducing the hours of specialist cover at Dorchester. They say that no decision will be made until spring 2016.

"I was very angry when I first heard the PHILIP George set up his business consultancy, called Join the Dots Consulting, two years ago.

He specialises in helping local business owners to grow their businesses profitably.

Married to a local artist and with two teenage children, Philip moved to Lyme Regis three years ago after many years of working in London and is a volunteer trustee of the Town Mill.

● WHY did you start Join the Dots?

I'm passionate about wanting local West Country businesses to thrive. Over the years I've worked in lots of successful big companies, and I now want to use the expertise I've gained to help our local economy flourish.

● HOW do you help local businesses?

I help business owners focus on the things that really matter. What makes your business different from your competitors? What do your customers really think about what you offer? What parts of your business generate your profitability, and how can we make these grow quicker?

I then put together a plan that shows the business owner how they can achieve their aims. I also work on an ongoing basis with companies to help them implement their plans.

● WHAT sort of businesses can you help?

I can help anyone. All businesses have customers, and the secret of running a successful business is understanding what your customers want and then delivering that.

● CAN you give us an example?

I've been working with Lyme Regis Brewery for the last few months. We have relaunched the brewery under the new name, refreshed the beer range and given it a great new website. I've also helped to revamp their Brewery Tap shop.

● AND has it worked?

Their sales are up 30 per cent this year. Their shop has just had its best ever week, smashing previous turnover records. They're delighted.

● TELL us a bit about your work with The Town Mill in Lyme Regis...

I'm a volunteer trustee of the Town Mill where I look after marketing. I wanted to help because the Town Mill is a unique place - a tourist attraction with a working watermill but also a thriving arts hub and home to a variety of local small businesses.

It's got a brilliant story to tell but the message wasn't getting through the way it should have been. We now produce a monthly leaflet and poster giving details of all the events that are happening, and promoting these through social media as well.

● WHAT advice do you have for someone thinking of starting their own business?

Go for it - running your own business can be immensely rewarding. But before you do anything, write a business plan and run it past someone who has real business experience. It will force you to think through your plans.

● HOW can I get in touch?

I'm happy to have an informal chat with any small business owner about how I might help. Please call me on 07812 104 550 or contact me via my website jointhedotsconsulting.co.uk

Massive protest to fight changes to children's hospital services proposals and obviously very concerned as well because George relies on children's services at DCH," said Naomi.

"It's going to affect the whole county. Bournemouth and Poole will not be able to cope with the higher demand and the ambulance service will not be able to cope with the transfers..."

"People are here to make their point.

They are hear to say we are a community and we all depend on that hospital and we don't want to see any changes."

Many other parents on the march shared the concerns about the time and cost of travel should services be transferred. Several young people on the march carried banners saying "The Special Care Baby Unit saved my life." Dorchester grandmother Jan Furzer (pictured below) attended the march with grandson, Alfie, who suffered fits and had to be taken into Dorchester in 2010. Also there was her other grandson, Flynn, (8 months), with mum Laura Beavan. He had needed a lumbar puncture at the County Hospital after fears he had contracted viral meningitis.

"Had he had to take the extra time to get to Poole, he might have died," said Mrs Furzer.

● The rally paid tribute to Bradley Webber, from Weymouth, who suffered from a rare brain disease and died on June 4th, aged six and whose funeral was held at the weekend.

His parents asked those who were unable to go to the service to attend the Dorchester march in his honour. He has initially been treated at the Special Care Baby Unit in Dorchester.

● NHS officials issued a joint statement on paediatric services from the NHS Dorset Clinical Commissioning Group, Dorset County Hospital and Poole Hospital.

"There has been no decision to close the Kingfisher inpatient unit or change the neonatal provision at Dorset County Hospital. Any decision on how children's care is delivered in Dorset will not be made until spring 2016 after a full public consultation has taken place between August and November 2015. Before then, we encourage local people to provide their views during the consultation.

High quality care

"Any proposal for paediatric services to be considered for a decision would ensure that the majority of children who require hospital based care at Dorset County Hospital would continue to receive care there.

"The ambition for future paediatric services for the whole of Dorset is to ensure safe, high quality care for all children and access to the right care at the right time for all children across the county.

"When children are unwell they need advice and treatment to be provided by the right people at the right time and in the right place. For more than three-quarters of children this care can be provided by GP and community services.

"The proposals have been developed with input from doctors, nurses, paramedics and patient and public representatives from across Dorset. They set out expanding and improving community services so that local people, including children, will have access to more services that are closer to home, available seven days a week and provided by appropriate teams of doctors, nurses and other professionals.

"Of course, there will be times when children do need hospital-based services. The proposals are therefore also considering how best to have high quality, safe and affordable hospital based children's services provided by a skilled and specialist workforce in the east and west of the county. These discussions are ongoing and include clinicians at Dorset County Hospital and Poole Hospital. They are considering inpatient provision and a paediatric assessment unit (a ward with beds in a hospital where children can be observed and treatment provided for short-stays).

"Therefore, having children's inpatient provision at Dorset County Hospital has not been removed as an option for consideration.

"We believe it is vital that the health-care for children in west Dorset continues to be provided by local GPs, community services and Dorset County Hospital. The current paediatric inpatient services at Dorset County Hospital will continue to provide good care for local children until such a time as any changes are agreed after the public consultation has been completed and the implementation timetable agreed.

"From late August 2015 the consultation documents which will clearly explain the proposals more fully will be available through GP practices, hospitals and a wide range of other community places. By joining the Health Involvement Network you will be notified as soon as they are published at the start of consultation."

Collecting signatories to force a referendum on council cabinet

THE Public First Group, which is campaigning for changes at West Dorset District Council, will be collecting signatures for their petition in Dorchester this Saturday (June 20th).

The group needs another 1,700 people to sign to trigger a referendum on moving the council back from 'Cabinet' government, where the main decisions are taken by a handful of councillors, to the committee system which they claim is more democratic and allows other voices to be heard.

"Probably over 90% of people we speak with are unhappy that one party with just 45% of votes in the local elections should have 100% of the seats in the powerful WDDC Cabinet, composed by the Leader of the largest party, who has hand-selected six same-party colleagues for this. Most people seem to prefer for the council to be run by Committees made up of all the 42 councillors we've elected," said spokesman John Grantham.

"There was no Dorchester-based WDDC Councillor in the Cabinet when the new council of offices were placed on Dorchester's second biggest central car-park, and there's none in the current Cabinet. But if a referendum is achieved and is successful it releases more participation and input by the many existing Dorchester-based - and other - WDDC Councillors."

The Petition Signings stand will be in South Street, Dorchester, from 9.30am to 3pm on Saturday, June 20th June, outside Barclays Bank.

Still 'No Excuse' for unsafe driving as police collect thousands in fines

DORSET Police have collected hundreds of thousands of pounds in fines as they continue to target motorists.

More than 1,650 have fallen foul of the law in just three months as the force tackles the 'fatal five' on Dorset's roads - drink and drug driving, excessive and inappropriate speed, not wearing a seatbelt, driver distractions such as using a handheld mobile phone and careless driving.

The team comprises one sergeant, six police constables, two police staff enquiry officers, and is supported by special constables.

The role of the team is to tackle poor driving and educate motorists in a bid to reduce the number of casualties on Dorset's roads.

Between January 20th and April 19th the 'No Excuse' team issued a total of 1,650 tickets to motorists for a range of offences, including using a mobile phone while driving, driving without due care and attention, speeding and not wearing a seatbelt. The vast majority of these were for speeding.

Eight motorists were arrested for drink and drug driving and driving without a licence.

A total of 53 drivers were sent to court for extreme speeding.

Eighty per cent of those who met the criteria took up the offer of a place on the Driver Awareness Course rather than going to court or receiving a £100 fixed penalty notice and three penalty points on their licence.

Further 'No Excuse' activities have also been taking place across Dorset, including work with the Maiden Newton Childcare Provision, where high visibility items were issued to teachers and children.

Dorset Police and Crime Commissioner Martyn Underhill said: "I support this self-funding enforcement team. Road safety remains a priority and I praise the work that is taking place to keep our roads safe. I remain fully committed to reducing the number of people killed or seriously injured on the roads. It is important that we work together to make our roads safer and I am delighted to see the police so well supported by local residents with initiatives such as the Community SpeedWatch Scheme."

'No Excuse' Operations Manager, Brian Austin, said: "This initiative is one of the tools in our armoury to remove bad and careless driving from our roads. The large number of concerns we receive proves that the public are keen for the 'No Excuse' team to visit their communities and take action against those who put them and their loved ones at risk."

"There is no excuse to break the traffic laws in Dorset. They are there for your safety and the safety of those around you."

Fewer potholes

DORSET County Council claim that between April 2014 and February 2015 18,776 defects were repaired on the county's roads - with 93 per cent fixed 'on time'.

The authority say there were fewer repairs carried out in January and February this year compared to last year thanks to the milder, more settled weather - with 48 per cent less jobs in January and 36 per cent less jobs in February.

The authority aims to complete repairs within 32 hours for the highest risk and 28 days for minor risk of reporting by the public or an inspection team.

Sports centre of the year award

STAFF at Dorchester Sports Centre have been named as the 1610 Centre of the Year.

The group manages 19 centres in Somerset, Devon and Dorset.

The awards celebrated achievements in customer service and innovation as well as the hard work and dedication involved in making 1610 so successful.

Staff at Dorchester Sports Centre scooped the most prestigious prize of the night, as staff were presented with the Centre of the Year Award by 1610 Chief Executive Tim Nightingale who praised the Dorchester team for their "incredible focus and determination to overcome some operating difficulties at the centre to make it one of 1610's most successful centres in terms of growth and increase in membership and the services it provides".

He continued: "It has one of the busiest exercise programmes in 1610 with almost 70 classes a week and just under a thousand children signed up to its swimming programme. It hosts many large events and swimming galas and the centre team has managed to hit all their financial targets for 14/15. The award is well deserved as the staff are a brilliant inspiration for the rest of 1610 to follow."

Looking for enthusiasts who can show people how to 'Try This'

■ THE Try This team signing people up to workshops last year

AFTER two successful years Dorchester's "Try This" event will be up and running again this year.

Organisers are hoping the event will be even bigger and better when it begins during the first week of October.

They are now appealing for volunteers who can share their skills in a workshop during the week beginning on October 3rd.

Previous events have included tea tasting, tightrope walking, drumming and first aid – but absolutely anything would be welcomed from academic to 'just for fun'.

"To increase the range of subjects covered by Try This we are looking for new session leaders who have a passion for a subject, hobby or skill that they are willing to share in a workshop in Dorchester either at lunch time or early evening," said a spokesperson for the organising group.

To register your potential interest in leading a session fill in the form at: www.dorchestertrythis.org.uk

Seventh community play

■ DORCHESTER is to get another community play – the county town's seventh.

The Dorchester Community Plays Association has asked Stephanie Dale to write the next play and Peter Cann to act as Director.

The period chosen is late 1400's into the early 1500's and The Wool Trade.

Volunteers are now being sought to help with the background research and are asked to contact Maggie Ansell: maggieansell@hotmail.com

The Association is also making plans to celebrate the 30th anniversary of its first play, Entertaining Strangers, and the following five plays at two events – a Family Picnic to be held in the Borough Gardens, Dorchester on Saturday, July 25th and a Gala Supper on Saturday, October 3rd at the Holy Trinity Parish Centre, Culliford Road North.

Literary festival plans

■ PLANS were being outlined this week for Dorchester's first dedicated literary festival – to be based mainly at the County Museum from October 23rd to 25th.

Organisers, local antiques expert Paul Atterbury, and writer Janet Gleeson, say they have been delighted with the response to festival and have won the support of local writers Minette Walter, Jason Goodwin, Tracy Chevalier and Lord Fellowes.

Festival events include a discussion between Lord Fellowes and Sunday Times columnist Danny Danziger and Tracy Chevalier sharing her Desert Island Books.

Other writers and speakers include William Waldegrave, Saul David, Robert Ryan, Martin Johnson, Allan Mallinson and Kate Adie talking about her book Fighting on the Home Front.

The festival has its own website – www.dorchesterliteraryfestival.com

Glittering tributes to dedicated carers

STAFF from two care homes in Weymouth and Dorchester are celebrating after winning awards at their company's annual prize-giving ceremony.

The Care South Stars Awards, which are now in their fifth year, recognise and reward outstanding achievement, commitment and dedication in care provision among staff who are nominated by their colleagues and those they care for. The awards also celebrate the achievements of staff who obtained qualifications during the year.

This year the Best Care New-comer award was presented to Joe Heath, a care assistant at Weymouth's Mount Pleasant home. Since joining Mount Pleasant in January 2014, Joe has very quickly established himself as an important member of the care team.

Mount Pleasant manager Dawn Palmer said: "This is Joe's first role in the care sector and he has settled in extremely well. Joe values all of the residents in the home and is always willing to go the extra mile to meet their needs. He has a relaxed and caring approach, even under pressure, and is never without a smile."

at homes across Dorset, won the award for Best Care Support having received six nominations from his colleagues and residents.

One resident said: "Ricky is always so kind and considerate, nothing is too much trouble."

Care South chief executive Susan Willoughby said: "Our Stars Awards ceremony offers a great way for us to acknowledge the achievements of our staff and say thank you for their dedication to providing exceptional care for residents and service users across our homes and home care services."

Meanwhile, activities co-ordinator Jenny Webster and the activities team at Care South's Maiden Castle House home in Dorchester took home the award for Best Activities Programme. Jenny and her team work hard to organise a programme that all of the home's residents will enjoy, with regular activities including a weekly disco, cookery sessions, flower arranging and tea parties. The home has also developed strong links with the local community and enjoys regular visits from nearby schools.

Care team leader/night shift leader Jemma Gowans, from Maiden Castle House, won the Care Team Leader of the Year award for her team building and leadership skills, which enable her to forge strong relationships with her team.

Home manager Clare Baker said: "I am very proud of Jenny and the team here at Maiden Castle House and delighted to see their efforts rewarded at the Care South Stars Awards. Jenny works extremely hard to deliver a fun programme to engage residents and it is clear to see how this is benefitting their health and well-being. Jemma is another extremely valued member of the team, providing a great deal of support and ongoing guidance to her colleagues."

Carol Mattingly, a volunteer at Maiden Castle House, received special recognition for her services to the home. The daughter of a former resident at the home and an experienced landscape gardener, Carol has started a gardening club for residents, with its own 'tallest sunflower' competition. She has also transformed an old boat into a seat in the home's courtyard, painting it with images from the story of The Owl and The Pussycat

150 runners in anniversary Puddletown Plod race

AROUND 150 runners lined up for the 10th anniversary Puddletown Plod at the weekend – running a 20k scenic route taking in nearby villages after starting at St Mary's Middle School.

Launched and run by St Mary's Puddletown Middle School Parent Teacher Association, the race was without a director for 2015 but Weymouth and Dorchester-based Egdon Heath Harriers stepped in and former Dorchester teacher, Frances Anderson, took on the role of Race Director.

All funds raised go to the St Mary's Puddletown Middle School. St Mary's Samba Band performed for the runners and supporters in front of the school with Oliver Tapley and Harry Stocker entertaining the runners on the course.

Bournemouth runner Steve Way led from the outset and completed the course in 1 hour and 9 minutes, four minutes faster than last year's winner and two minutes ahead of the second place runner, Daniel Middleton from Norwich with Dorset Daddies member Scott Pound in third. The first lady home was Heyley Merifield from Poole in 1.32.

The male team prize went to Egdon Heath Harriers with Lytchett Manor Striders taking the female team prize.

■ A SCENE from last year's carnival - appreciative crowds in Brewery Square

All set for this Saturday's carnival

THIS year's Dorchester Carnival will be a success according to chairman Les Fry. After a slow start to entries, around 430 organisations have now signed up to this Saturday's procession.

There will also be a "Party in the Park" in the Borough Gardens on Friday with bands and the four-legged race.

Mr Fry, of Casterbridge Rotary Club, volunteered to be carnival committee chairman with the backing of his, and the other two Rotary clubs, as well as other organisations and individuals. The event had been at risk after dwindling numbers forced Round Table to pull out of its organising role.

The group will stage the four-legged race this Friday, starting from the Gardens at 7pm. Other events will be taking place in the Borough Gardens from 6pm until 10pm with people being encouraged to bring along a picnic and make an evening out. The funfair will be in the market area from this Thursday.

On Carnival Day there will be a Street fair in South Street, with Weapons of Sound, a junk band, running a free workshop in New Street, starting at 2pm. A display of Vintage vehicles will be open in Brewery Square with many of them joining the procession which starts from the market car park at the earlier time of 5.30pm, following a route around the town centre which will necessitate some road closures for drivers.

Chris Davies, procession organiser commented, "I am confident that the procession this year will once again really entertain the crowds. The vintage vehicles will lead the way followed by over 30 entries, possibly with more yet to come, and of course the 3 major bands - HMS Heron Marching band, Weapons of Sound and the the Dorchester carnival band.

"All we need now is for the people of Dorchester to come and have an enjoyable evening and show their support for the Carnival."

Entries for floats will be accepted up to the start of the procession.

"This is your carnival, all proceeds will be distributed to local charities Come along, and join in. Be part of carnival!"

Further details can be found on the website - www.dorchester-carnival.org

There are four classes for the carnival procession, each with prizes of £100 each for best in class and an extra £150 (Total prize £250) for best overall entry:-

- Children's walking
- Children's float
- Open non-commercial entry

All trim at the harbour

A NEW hairdressing salon has opened on the harbour side at Weymouth.

The Harbour Trim in Trinity Road is a unisex hair salon which was officially opened by Malcolm Wright and Rob Michael of the Weymouth Lifeboat crew (pictured).

They were chosen to perform the opening ceremony because the lifeboat is The Harbour Trim's chosen charity to support.

The business has been set up Natalie Fry who recently acquired the premises where she and her colleague, Ali Graham, have now set up, bringing together more than 30 years combined experience.

They will be available for walk-in or appointments and will be tailoring their opening hours to suit everyone, so if customers are unable to visit them during "normal" opening hours then they will be able to have their hair done until 7pm on some days.

The Harbour Trim offers magnificent views, refreshments and a full range of services such as colour/blow dry/wash and cut through a team of experienced hairdressers able to meet all hairdressing needs.

Monica's trip down memory lane

By Harry Walton

hdswalton@yahoo.co.uk

A FORMER Weymouth woman has been revisiting the town for a walk down memory lane.

Monica Spawton, 96, now lives in Carmarthen, but in 1931 she came to Weymouth as a child, leaving in 1942 when she was called away to be a Spitfire piston inspector in the New Forest.

She still remembers many aspects of Weymouth, particularly the Park Community Centre which in 1942 was known as the BW Forces Club.

Monica said: "I knew a social activist who was a teetotaler. One night a drunken soldier stepped out in front of her car and she nearly ran him over.

"When asked why he was in such a state he said that there was nowhere to go so he and fellow soldiers blew all their pay in a single night.

"The activist decided to provide somewhere for soldiers to go, approached St John's Church and was granted use of the hall to start a canteen for the duration of the war which became known as the BW Forces Club."

The Club, which offered everything from games and newspapers to books and table tennis proved to be a turning point in Monica's life when there was a shortage of peeled potatoes at a concert!

Soldiers were asked to volunteer to peel more....and one of them spotted Monica and waited for her later after the concert. The two of them rapidly struck up a friendship and within weeks they were engaged.

Monica said: "This was 1942 but we didn't get married in Bank Buildings Baptist Church until 1946 because Charles didn't want to get married while the war was on in case he was killed."

Within weeks of their engagement the two had to separate, Monica to go to Lymington to inspect Spitfire pistons and Charles to go to India for training on his way to Burma.

Over the last 69 years Monica has only been back to the town twice but her memories of Weymouth are still very clear.

She said: "I can remember boys in straw boaters at Weymouth College while the seafront then was pretty much the same as it is now.

"One thing which really has changed is the Inner Harbour. There certainly weren't the yachts years ago that there are now, but the Sidney Hall was still there when I lived in Weymouth because I remember all us girls had to go there for first aid courses and to learn how to evacuate bombed out buildings."

Monica said her main memory of the time was the day trippers who came to Weymouth.

She said: "They mostly came by train on the Southern Railway or the Great Western Railway and they all packed out the seafront. We locals always used to go up to Greenhill where it was much quieter!"

200 years after the Battle of Waterloo

By Trevor Bevins
trevorbevins@gmail.com

VOLUNTEERS at the Dorchester-based Dorset history centre have researched local records relating to the Battle of Waterloo, 200 years ago on June 18th.

At the time Napoleon had returned from his first exile, to lead France in a furious campaign, which culminated in a hard won triumph for forces led by the First Duke of Wellington.

Amongst the stories are those of Ann Winzor from Fordington and Samuel Melmer from Charlton, who spent his last years at Holwell.

Ann was baptised in Fordington in 1795, and at the age of seventeen married James Winzor from the parish of Holy Trinity. Just nine months later, their son was baptised, taking the same name as his father, only to die at the age of five, being buried in Fordington in July 1817.

When James, a soldier, was deployed to the continent, Ann accompanied him and tended the wounded at the Battle of Waterloo, and in Paris. She later cared for wounded soldiers in Gibraltar.

Ann and James Winzor returned to Dorchester and lived for many years in the High Street, and then Shire Hall Lane, with a second son, Joseph. Later in life, the family, along with Joseph's daughter Caroline Collins, moved to Piddlehinton. The gravestone of Ann and James, erected by Lieutenant Colonel Charles Astell of West Lodge Piddlehinton, tells the stories of their Waterloo exploits.

Samuel Melmer was born in Charlton, Dorset around 1789, served at Waterloo in the 12th Light Dragoons. However, the story of Samuel Melmer's later years is one of hardship, poverty and deprivation for both him and his second wife, Eliza.

Although Melmer became an Out-Patient of Chelsea Hospital, the pension paid was insufficient for him and his wife to live on. Melmer and Eliza, who worked as an agricultural labourer and a 'glover' respectively, both lived to a very great age, with fading eyesight in the Parish of Holwell. It is amongst the parish records for Holwell held at the Dorset History Centre that researchers found the letters which cast light on the fund-raising efforts of Dr Davies from Sherborne, who described Melmer as 'a most hard-working and industrious man until crippled by age.'

Dr Davies describes the elderly couple's predicament, and gives us an insight into the effect that Waterloo had on the public imagination;

'...few indeed would imagine that in a little mud cottage on the side of an unfrequented road lives one who bids fair to be the last survivor of the Battle of Waterloo, the last of the mighty sixty-nine thousand who, from ten o'clock in the morning till seven o'clock in the evening, stood the onward rush of the veterans of France, as a rock does the stormy waves of the sea, and who by their patriotism and heroic bravery have left an imperishable name in our island story.'

When the impoverished Eliza Melmer died in 1903, an unknown parishioner asked that the following well-known verse be recorded in the parish records;

*"When war is come and battle nigh
God and the soldier is all the cry
When war is o'er and peace is sighted
God is forgotten and the soldier slighted."*

■ MARIE Waterman at the volunteer fair

Event to show volunteers at their best

MORE than 20 stalls packed out St Mary's Church and grounds in Weymouth town centre for the second annual Volunteers Fair.

Representatives attended from numerous organisations from Dorset Wildlife Trust at Age UK and the Nothe Fort.

Organiser Marie Waterman, who is manager of the Volunteer Centre Dorset, said the event had grown since 2014.

She added: "An event such as this is vital so potential volunteers have somewhere to go and find out just how wide ranging opportunities are in the area.

"We had stalls for everything from nature to the elderly and from the Samaritans to hospitals friends groups.

"Volunteers are the backbone of so many organisations and the community as a whole.

"We held the event to help them find out where their assistance might do the most good while at the same time showing them a range of options to interest them.

"The fair was especially helpful for people looking for work because it was something to put on their CV, to help with their confidence and to help with their skills.

"We hope this event showed volunteering at its best and encouraged many new people to come forward and help."

■ WELDMAR Hospice-care Trust is offering a volunteering opportunity to people from the Community Credit Scheme which supports people with learning disabilities in volunteering.

Volunteers from the scheme have recently been helping in the gardens at Trimar Hospice on Weymouth seafront.

Assistant Director South Jane Barnett said: "We are delighted to be offering a volunteering opportunity to this group of people.

"Our gardens are being very well cared for and our patients, visitors and staff are appreciating how neat and tidy our gardens are looking.

"This is a lovely example of partnership working and how all of us are benefitting from this. We were delighted that Volunteer Dorset was able to fill a gap in our own volunteer service."

CCS project co-ordinator Siobhan Davis said: "I would just like to say that so many are gaining from attending on a Wednesday and friendships and community connections are being made from this little group."

People participating in the scheme earn community credits for each session they provide.

The credits can then be cashed in at local facilities such as swimming pools. For more information about the Community Credit Scheme visit www.volunteering-dorset.org.uk/community+credits and for more information about WeldmarHospicecare Trust, including volunteering opportunities, visit www.weldmarhospice.org.uk.

■ WEY Valley School expedition party in Nepal, digging for water tank in 2013

School raises funds for Nepalese disaster relief

STAFF, students, friends and family of Wey Valley School in Weymouth have raised more than £1,800 towards the earthquake appeal in Nepal.

A non-uniform day, cake sale and donations and contributions from Friends of the school, including £500 from the Dorset Property Works team, will now be sent to the Okhle Village Trust and the Child Education Nepal UK (CENUK) Appeal.

Karen Edgeley, teacher at Wey Valley and Nepal expedition co-ordinator at the school said: "We are very grateful for the kind contributions towards this appeal which, together with funds raised by other local schools, will make a positive difference to support the families in Nepal who have been caught up in this awful natural disaster."

An expedition from Wey Valley visited Nepal in 2013 and the school plans to make a return visit to the region this December.

Karen Edgeley said: "We are keeping close links with our friends in the Nepalese village of Okhle, and plan to continue our support work with Water Aid when we next visit.

"The people of the area have fantastic resource and resolve. They will do much of the work that is needed themselves but they need funds for materials and daily needs".

The immediate aims of CENUK are to help rebuild vehicle access to the village of Ashrang, and ensure people have immediate food, water, shelter and medical aid.

The charity also aims to ensure that measures are in place to combat water-borne disease, help the area to recover lost crops and finally to examine the possibility of an aid centre that could eventually become a community centre-hostel for trekkers.

In addition, the appeal will focus on urgent reconnection to electrical services and damaged water supplies as well as rebuilding devastated homes and the three damaged schools.

MS sufferer and his trusty motorbike on expedition to Everest base camp

A DORCHESTER man is aiming to achieve a lifetime dream, despite suffering from multiple sclerosis (MS). Tony King, 47, is attempting to reach Base Camp Everest on a Royal Enfield motorbike with his wife Fiona riding pillion, while raising money for a national charity, the MS Trust.

From an early age Tony King toured the UK with his dad and later his wife, taking part in trials and enduro competitions, including the gruelling Scottish six-day trial twice.

In 2010 problems with vision, together with some balance issues, led to a diagnosis of relapse, remitting multiple sclerosis.

Despite the illness Tony has continued his trials competitions and also riding motorbikes on the road, spending holidays in the French Alps and the Pyrenees.

Everest has been a lifelong fascination for Tony. He has explored different ways to visit Base Camp, but the difficulties of his MS trekking wasn't an option.

Said Tony: "Finding Extreme Bike Tours is the perfect solution to help me achieve my dream. No matter how fatigued I get I can always twist a throttle."

"We are in contact with Zander, who runs the expeditions. He has confirmed that the route is clear despite Nepal suffering from two earthquakes this year. The country relies on tourism and the money it brings to the economy is crucial for the rebuilding process.

"We are funding our own trip so any money donated will go straight to charity to help support other sufferers and help find a cure for the life-limiting illness."

To help raise money Tony and Fiona have taken part in a cycle challenge around Goodwood racing circuit and are organising a biker night at the Fox Inn, Ansty, on July 4th. Tony is also taking part in the French four day trial in Sardent.

Nash Ensemble play as part of John Craxton tribute

THE Nash Ensemble are playing at Dorset County Museum for one night only this Friday, June 19th.

The event is taking place as part of the ongoing exhibition at the museum to Dorset artist John Craxton and one of the pieces in the programme was written in memory of the artist after his death.

The musicians who will be playing from 7.30pm are Gareth Hulse (oboe), Laura Samuel (violin), Annabelle Meare (violin), James Boyd (viola), Adrian Brendel (cello).

Their programme will include the Oboe Quintet 'Into the Ravine', which was influenced by paintings, including one given to the composer Michael Berkeley's father in 1962 by John Craxton.

Michael Berkeley and his parents Lennox and Freda Berkeley were close friends of the Craxton family for many years. In 1962 John Craxton commissioned Lennox Berkeley to write an oboe sonata for his sister Janet Craxton, the oboist. In return he gave Lennox a painting of a Greek Ravine, which later was to be the inspiration for 'Into the Ravine'.

In 2012 after the death of John Craxton, Michael Berkeley wrote 'Into the Ravine' in memory of the artist.

John Craxton's work, including the paintings that inspired Michael Berkeley, is on display until September 19th in a temporary exhibition at the Museum and at Dorset County Museum.

■ PRESENTING the cheque at Radipole Lake

Natural choices - helping people to work in the outdoor environment

A NEW work programme has opened in Weymouth and Portland for people with low risk mental and physical health conditions.

The idea of Natural Choices is to encourage people to do gentle exercise in a natural outdoor environment.

Natural Choices was launched at the RSPB Centre on Radipole Lake, Weymouth, and organiser Rhiannon Jones of the Dorset Coast Forum said they hoped people would be signposted to the programme by their doctor.

She added: "Those joining the programme will have an opportunity to choose from a suite of activities set in the natural environment with the hope that it will improve their mental health and wellbeing."

"Activities include mindfulness where people focus on the present, health and photography walks, sailing and conservation tasks."

The main speaker was Dr William Bird, the founder of Intelligent Health, who talked about the benefits of doing exercises outdoors.

Among those attending the event was Weymouth and Portland Deputy Mayor Richard Kosior who said: "I am very interested in Natural Choices which I think is a great way of getting groups and the community involved in helping those with low risk mental and physical health problems."

The evening included the presentation of an £11,500 cheque from the 2012 Health and Well-being Legacy Fund to Natural Choices Weymouth and Portland.

Volunteers needed to help run Lawrence on Arabia's cottage

CLOUDS Hill, Lawrence of Arabia's tiny cottage hideaway near Bovington is gearing up for the 100th anniversary of the 1916-18 Arab Revolt with a recruitment day for new volunteers next Tuesday, June 23rd.

The National Trust is looking for more volunteers to help run the cottage - from conservation assistants to room guides and reception assistants.

Alison Gale, who works at Clouds Hill says: "Our volunteers do a fantastic job in greeting visitors and sharing the story of Lawrence, and the visitor book is full of comments about the atmosphere of the cottage and the enthusiasm of the volunteers."

"They come from all walks of life, with different backgrounds, interests and ages, but they share in common a passion for the place - some from before they started volunteering, others just from being here."

One of the most recent recruits is Anne Brown, who knew virtually nothing about T E Lawrence when she moved from Buckinghamshire to Dorset last year. She had always enjoyed looking around National Trust houses and gardens and was inspired to volunteer whilst visiting Clouds Hill as a way of getting more involved in the local community. Anne volunteers in the Visitor Reception

■ ALISON Gale, visitor services assistant at Clouds Hill with the cottage in the background and enjoys the people-facing role: "I love the variety, every visitor is different, she says. Recently we ran our first Lawrence Week, a series of talks, events and guided walks. He was a man of so many parts, so many interests, and the passion he had for life seems to have touched people down the generations."

Anne volunteers at the cottage on Fridays, meeting and greeting the visitors as they arrive and introducing them to Clouds Hill.

"I've learnt about Lawrence as I've gone along," Anne explained. "Something I've found I'm really good at is selling guidebooks. I don't know what it is exactly but I just seem to have a knack! I think the fact that both T E Lawrence and Clouds Hill are so interesting helps."

The drop-in afternoon will be held at Clouds Hill on Tuesday 23rd from midday- 4pm when Alison Gale will be on hand to explain more and answer questions.

Vintage Style with Shy Violet

SHY VIOLET is a sweet little emporium in the centre of Abbotsbury village, selling all things vintage and vintage style. The Shy Violet shop has been trading for over ten years now but only moved to Abbotsbury in November 2014.

The shop is based within the walls of a lovely old chapel just off the main High Street. There's plenty of vintage collectibles and hand-painted vintage furniture for sale, plus lots of lovely homewares, gifts and cards.

Owner Suzie Rowett is always happy to encourage others and keen to give advice and suggestions where needed. Suzie's ethos for Shy Violet is to remove, what she perceives as snobbery, out of interior design.

Shy Violet also houses a range of vintage fabrics and haberdashery, craft materials, display stands and materials, stationery and various craft kits. There are also various room-sets and sample craft items to inspire you. Not forgetting a lovely interior design studio on-site, giving lots of free advice and free services, including a paint colour bar, an Interiors reference library and much more. Short courses are also taught from the studio on a regular basis, including the core classes in Interior Decorative Paint Techniques, an exceptionally popular subject.

Not only appealing to lovers of vintage and crafts, Shy Violet, more uniquely is a perfect place for owners of emporium units and small craft businesses to pay a visit with a lot of the stock designed to appeal to small business. Ten years plus in the craft-based Interiors field has left Suzie with a wealth of knowledge and plenty of experience that she is more than happy to share with others.

Suzie's cottage in nearby Bridport is due to be featured in national Interiors magazine, The English Home. This coincides with the launch of her B&B at the cottage.

For more information concerning the shop or the B&B visit the Shy Violet website at www.shy-violet.co.uk and the cottage blog at www.violetcottage.shy-violet.co.uk

Why not treat your old man to something stylish that suits his personality?

By Katie Wright, Press Association

I THINK we can all agree that of the two annual parental celebration days, Mothering Sunday represents the easiest gift-getting assignment. Flowers, chocolates, afternoon teas... mums are just easier to buy for, aren't they?

But that doesn't mean dads should be lumped with the usual beer assortment with free bottle-opener gift pack, which you hastily grab from the drinks aisle when doing the weekly shop.

The Outdoorsy Type

Like a superhero living a double life, the Token Waxed Fordham Convertible Bag, £265, from American brand Manhattan Portage, transforms from a cross-body messenger bag into a hardy backpack ready for off-road terrain - perfect for the superhero in your life (www.tokenbags.co.uk).

The History Buff

Created to commemorate 75 years since the Battle of Britain, these poppy-shaped cufflinks are crafted from duralumin metal taken from a real Spitfire P7350, of which, your dad will tell you, there are only 35 left (the material was removed during restoration). The Battle of Britain Spitfire Poppy Cufflinks are £99.99, with all proceeds going to The Royal British Legion (Poppyshop.org.uk).

Broadwindsor Craft and Design Centre & Restaurant

BROADWINDSOR Craft Centre is the ideal place to visit for a special Father's Day gift, or join us on Sunday 21st June for a delicious lunch.

Our large restaurant offers meals and refreshments in a relaxed and friendly atmosphere.

For lunch, home-made soup, hot dishes and salads are created daily using fresh local produce. New to us this year, we are now serving vegetables, along with new potatoes Monday to Saturday and traditional roast potatoes on Sundays with selected hot lunches.

Fine coffees and teas, with a choice of pastries and cakes, are available throughout the day. High Teas and Dorset Cream Teas are an afternoon favourite.

The main gift shop stocks a wide range of gifts ideal for your home, family or friends which include... jewellery, handbags, cosmetics, cards for all occasions, gardening gifts, craft kits, foods and wines, a large selection of candles, clothing, stationery, china, glassware, clocks, pictures, toys, men's gifts and much more.

The Craft Centre is also home to Earth Design ~ the Attic Gallery ~ Caboodle ~ Made By Ewe ~ Painted Vintage ~ Vintage Rose Soft Furnishings. Quality gold and silver gemstone jewellery, stone sculptures, vases, American artefacts, the finest semi-precious stones, crystals and minerals.

A range of local artists including painters, pot-

The Eco Friend

Every item produced by sustainable accessories brand Matt & Nat (it stands for material and nature) is vegan, meaning no animal products were used. The Artisan Black Travel Tote, £163, goes one further - its black fabric lining is made from recycled plastic bottles (www.mattandnat.com).

The Label Lover

A designer suit may be beyond your present-buying budget, but sunnies aren't. Often worn by the man himself, Tom Ford's aviators are cool and classic, particularly the black Jared Sunglasses, £164 (www.sunglasses-shop.co.uk).

The Eccentric

When are socks not a lazy, clichéd Father's Day present? When they're statement McQueen socks, that's when, made to peek playfully beneath a sharp suit. The Alexander McQueen Red Skull Cotton Blend Socks, £50, are for the dad who wants to stand out (www.harveynichols.com).

The Dapper Dad

If your pa has a penchant for tailored suits and snappy ties, a silk pocket square is the way to go. Fabled shirt maker Hawes & Curtis does a mean line in Silk 4-Way Pocket Squares, £20 each, offering a quartet of snazzy suit-enhancing options (www.hawesandcurtis.co.uk).

The Movie Geek

Is your dad already counting down the days to the release of Star Wars Episode VII later this year? Then he'll totally geek out over a Darth Vader-baiting T-shirt. Choose from a brilliant selection, £30 each, at Joy (www.joythestore.com).

The Fashion Follower

Forget stuffy blazers and ties - every dad worth his GQ subscription knows that a bomber is the jacket to be seen in this season. Steer him away from embroidered pink 'Ryan Gosling in Drive' territory, with the sporty Genka M Woven Jacket, £125 (www.elevenparis.com).

The Frequent Flyer

If your dad racks up air miles faster than the average pilot, Ted Baker's Canoe Clobber Bag, £39.95, will complement his jet-set lifestyle. Whether it's filled with grooming bits or gadgets and chargers, the sturdy two-pocket shape and vintage illustration make it a stylish travel companion (www.amara.com).

For The Dad Who Has Everything

He's already got the Samsung Galaxy Tab A, the iPhone 6, and now the iWatch, so when it comes to gifts for early-adopter dads, you've got to go bespoke - but it needn't cost the earth. Thorndale will embroider up to five letters on a burgundy or grey Jay Bespoke iPad Case as part of the £45 price tag. So you could go with his initials, obviously, or ILUVU for an unapologetically sentimental touch (www.thorndale.co.uk).

Buy It Now

Struggling to find the perfect T-shirt for Dad for Father's Day? Then why not design your own? With social enterprise Connected Generation, you can upload an image (or choose one of their artists' designs) then pick a charity scheme to which £5 from your £25 T-shirt will be donated. They'll even keep you updated on how the project is going (www.connectedgeneration.org).

■ DORSET Police Specials at the Showcase of Volunteering

In praise of police volunteers

DORSET Police held a special event a Kingston Maurward to celebrate their volunteers.

The day of activity highlighted the vital work Dorset Police volunteers conduct and provided an opportunity for Dorset's Police and Crime Commissioner, Martyn Underhill, and the force to thank the hundreds of volunteers who give up their free time to support the local community.

Said Mr Underhill: "Dorset Police volunteers are a valued and integral part of the force and they help to enhance and support the services we provide to the public.

"They are building stronger relationships with our communities and I am very grateful for their dedication and commitment in making Dorset a safer place."

Chief Constable Debbie Simpson also spoke at the event: "Our volunteers are ordinary people doing extraordinary things in the community and over the last year we have seen some incredible achievements by people giving up their own time.

"As a force we experience wide and diverse demand, with which our volunteers support us significantly in roles such as CCTV operators, Safe Bus volunteers, Home Watch Co-ordinators and running the community speed watch.

"In addition, the Special Constabulary provide a highly visible presence in our communities and we currently have 224 deployed across the force. I am delighted that our Special Constabulary recruitment has opened again, giving the opportunity for those with the drive and dedication to support their community.

"I want to say thank you for everything that our volunteers do as they are a key part of making this county the safe place that it is."

A marketplace was held where attendees could visit stalls set up by the numerous volunteer organisations that have partnership arrangements with Dorset Police. In addition, workshops about cybercrime, neighbourhood policing, Neighbourhood Justice Panels, and post and telephone scams took place to give guests an insight into how volunteers assist the Force in these areas of policing.

Many volunteers were invited to attend the event including Watch Members, Police Support Volunteers and Special Constables.

Community Speed Watch Administrator, Joanna Gardiner commented: "I have had a fantastic day today, discovering the broad range of volunteers which support Dorset Police as I had no idea there was so many different volunteering roles! It has been great to meet with other volunteers to share tips and experiences."

● In 2014 Dorset Police Special Constables gave 56879 hours of their time, averaging 23 hours per month per constable, the national requirement being only 16 hours a month.

● In 2014 Dorset Police Support Volunteers gave 8676 hours of recorded time.

Dorset Community Energy Share Offer launch

A NOT-FOR-PROFIT Community Benefit Society, Dorset Community Energy, has launched their first community share offer. The share offer is open for 1 month between June 5th and July 4th, and provides local communities with the opportunity to collectively own solar PV panels on village halls and schools. The development of the Dorset Community Energy solar panels scheme has been supported by the Big Lottery 'Communities Living Sustainably in Dorset' programme.

As a community benefit, the project will provide approximately £200,000 of free electricity to the 3 participating schools and 3 village halls over a period of 20 years.

Prospective members should consider membership a long-term investment and are advised to read the Share Offer Document available on the website www.dorsetcommunityenergy.org.uk and take independent financial advice before making an investment.

Take the foodfuture challenge in 2015

Foodfuture is the new umbrella in town for all those who want to buy and eat food that's good for people, good for animals and good for the planet.

"Who doesn't enjoy talking about food?" asks Linda Hull, food co-ordinator for Communities Living Sustainably in Dorset which has developed the foodfuture project. "People were really willing to talk about their favourite foods, where they shop and many enthusiastically took up the challenge to Spend a Tenner on locally produced food from now on."

We import 40% of our food and 95% of our fruit usually from places with growing populations and reducing water resources

We spend £196 billion a year on food and drink in the UK but less than 5% of this goes to the actual producers

Our global food system contributes up to 50% of greenhouse gas emissions from deforestation, soil erosion, packaging, freezing, transportation, waste and more

It's time for more of us to directly invest in our LOCAL food economy. Let's make simple changes to what we eat and how we shop and we can cool the planet with every bite...

SPEND A TENNER LOCALLY

21 people pledged to Love Local Food and Spend a Tenner Locally at last weekend's Bridport Food Festival. This fun challenge was launched as part of the Festival's newest area: the foodfuture Grow Your Own Patch – a collaboration with Communities Living Sustainably in Dorset, Groves Nurseries, Washingpool Farm Shop, Plan B's Every Day Salads and HOME in Bridport.

Take the Spend a Tenner Locally challenge in 2015

We're looking for the first 1% of people in town to join the foodfuture challenge to set off on a food adventure: the journey to a more sustainable diet – one that's good for you, good for animals and good for the planet.

What will you pledge to do?

We're working with schools, shoppers and businesses to make one change to the food we eat, helping to boost the local economy and move towards more sustainable ways of eating.

For shoppers ~ Spend a Tenner Locally and choose one product to buy locally from now on.

For businesses ~ Pledge an action in support of the Foodfuture Charter to feature on the Foodfuture map

For schools ~ Take the One Pot Challenge - sustainable recipes designed by local children, perfected in the mobile kitchen

Simply by buying seasonal foods produced locally ~ and sold independently - we can reduce the pollution and waste caused by transporting food around the world while keeping more wealth circulating locally, supporting local livelihoods and keeping skills alive too.

Every £10 you spend on locally produced food in local shops is worth £17.60 to the local economy. Buying food in this way transforms the weekly shop into an investment tool for a more sustainable planet.

PLEDGEMAKERS received free entry into a draw to win a breakfast for two at Soulshine and a copy of "Your Local Shopping List" detailing producers of everything you could possibly need from fruit and veg, meat and fish, eggs and dairy, bread and baked goods, condiments, preserves, drinks – all of it available within a 5 mile radius, with many more producers situated within 15 miles. Those taking part all agreed to be contacted in a couple of months' time to see how they were getting on with keeping their pledges.

"Shopping for food like this lets you use your economic power to support the kind of food system you want and transforms the weekly shop into an investment tool for a more sustainable planet," says Linda. "And it keeps money local too: if all 7000 households in town did this every week it would be a £70,000 - or £3.5 million a year – boost to the local economy."

"We know that lots of people like to buy local food and we are totally blessed with amazing local food around Bridport so the aim of the Spend a Tenner campaign is to bring all this bounty to many more people's attention!", said

Linda.

The SPEND A TENNER LOCALLY challenge is a new fun way to learn more about local food in Bridport and how to feast our way to wiser food choices. It's part of foodfuture Bridport, a project initiated and supported by Communities Living Sustainably in Dorset, setting out to help people access good local and sustainable food.

ONE POT CHALLENGE

Meanwhile in another part of Bridport Food Festival last Saturday, Blake Ford, 10, from Symondsburry School, was announced first prize winner in a brand new schools sustainable cooking competition.

The Festival teamed up with foodfuture Bridport, Ecoschools, Communities Living Sustainably plus street food businesses Stewed and Baked and Pizza Dragon to create a cooking challenge with a twist. Children from 4 of Bridport's Primary Schools took part in devising recipes for sustainable family meals which protect health, support the local economy and are good for the planet too.

Blake submitted "My Dorset Tagine" as his response to the One Pot Challenge. Blake's Dorset

Tagine put local seasonal ingredients together with some exotic fair trade spices to produce a simple recipe which could use meat, fish or be vegetarian. This adaptability helped to win him top marks for being appetizing and imaginative as well as healthy and sustainable. Blake wins a £25 voucher kindly donated by Groves Nurseries for his school to spend.

Daisy Smith's West Country Fish and Noodle Soup came a close second with third place going to Team 2's Herby Spring Chicken from St Catherine's School. Entries were also received from Burton Bradstock and Powerstock Primary Schools. Mayor Sandra Brown presented the prizes and certificates.

The One Pot Challenge continues as the judges' feedback on submitted recipes will be built into exciting hands on cooking sessions with Giles Smith, street food trader and proprietor of Stewed and Baked. Giles will be driving his unit into schools to do a series of cook-offs with students combining essential knowledge of the curriculum with a fun hands-on experience in a designer street food truck.

Thousands flock to Kingston Maurward

THOUSANDS came to this year's Open Day and Country Fair at Kingston Maurward College on Sunday.

Fine weather saw families taking lunch by the lakeside while listening to music from local bands and two sets from rising star Lauren Bannon whose haunting songs, many written by herself, brought waves of applause.

The lawns overlooking the lake were also home for food and craft stalls while the lake itself provided a playground for young and not so young trying their hand at kayaking under the guidance of college adventure sports tutors.

New students starting in September toured their academy areas and were welcomed to the College in preparation for their enrolment in a few weeks.

Visitors also enjoyed a day packed full of activities including tractor driving, pony rides, meeting the animals, tree climbing and watching displays of falconry.

Also popular were dog shows and demonstrations at the indoor equine arena, the nearby stables and pony rides while the afternoon milking brought dozens of people anxious to see the college's Friesian herd waiting patiently for their turn in the parlour

■ Milking demonstrations were popular

■ KAYAKING proved popular on the lake

■ Crowds watching the dairy herd being milked

■ LOCAL singer Lauren Bannon on stage

JURASSIC FIELDS FESTIVAL SUCCESS LOOKING TO REPEAT ITSELF

ORGANISING an event no matter how small often results in problems, so imagine what it must be to take on a project such as Bridport's first music festival, especially when you have no previous experience.

That was the situation facing Daniel Broom, managing director of Jurassic Fields Productions Limited (JFPL), when he and fellow organiser Scott Morris came up with the idea.

With an empty sheet of paper, but a desire to fill a gap in Bridport's calendar that so many people had talked about for so long, where did he start and why?

Although not musically talented, he has lived in the town all his life and grown up with the amazing music scene that exists in Bridport. As a result he noticed how hard it was for local talent to progress in the industry to get noticed and obtain that all important chance through a demo record, a grant for music tuition or to produce what could be a Number One album; all dreams beyond the majority.

The short term objective was to provide a community event celebrating music to give local musicians the opportunity to perform on a professional stage whilst combining it with attractions to make it a family event.

The first one last year was hailed as a huge success and received glowing praise from all quarters, positive reaction being received from sponsors, bands involved and the public through social media, both for the content and the professional way in which it was planned and organised.

With the ambition to support youth music particularly, a number of youth acts and young musicians will be performing on stage at this year's event, which once again is being held as Asker Meadows on Saturday July 11th.

The long term goal; within 3-4 years; is to create a professional music studio and rehearsal hall in Brid-

port, making the resources available to local musicians at little or no cost, and to provide grants to local musicians to further their career. They hope that this might create a model for other communities to establish their own festivals and opportunities for musicians.

However the path to success is slow and not without its pitfalls, as Daniel found out.

However his preparation and hard work and ability to work with Bridport Town Council and other local organisation and authorities in the town ensured the day was a success.

Daryl Chambers, BTC Surveyor who was responsible for ensuring the organisers met the criteria, and with the help of the town council, gave full support and advice said: "It was a fantastic day and couldn't have gone any better from my point of view. They did everything I asked of them and that showed on the day with how well organised it was. I thoroughly enjoyed it. It was superb and a fantastic addition to events in Bridport."

Despite the resounding success, the event lost money, something 38-year old Daniel felt through his pocket, although they are hoping to break even this year.

He confirmed it cost around £50,000 to put on the festival and comply with all the regulations required for such an event, and although sponsors money went a long way, they still needed to organise fundraisers during the year such as Race Nights, Duck Races, quizzes and car boot sales to boost the coffers.

A Senior Systems Engineer with Amsafe Bridport for almost 20 years he admitted last year was a bit deflating having put in about 3000 hours of his spare time with nothing to show for it apart from a big dent in his bank account to cover the deficit.

He said: "The 5 year plan shows we should break even this year and as it establishes we will start making the money to meet our long term objectives. It has been a lot easier this year but you do need the help and support to make it successful. We are always looking for new sponsors and are following up grant opportunities to make the dream a reality and form a sustainable and enjoyable festival that people will be putting on their calendars every year."

Asked what he thought will make Jurassic Fields a long term success he said: "The support of the locals is definitely a major factor. Without the help of the sponsors and the public supporting this event it wouldn't succeed."

"I think the family aspect of the festival makes it slightly different from some of the other festivals as the variety of attractions including the free kids entertainment, music, comedy and the introduction of the youth stage makes it more of a community festival and more appealing to a wider audience."

"Obviously the variety of acts is a major factor and while a big headliner may bring in a bigger audience it is not always the case, and are often very expensive and therefore not viable. Therefore this year we changed our way of thinking. There are so many great acts that maybe aren't quite as well known, but still all have their own big followings that will still pull you those same sorts of crowds. The ticket sales have been really good already this year and if we can keep the support and momentum we can turn this event from something good into something great."

The event which runs from 10am until 11pm is headlined this year by Ska band Orange Street and once again promises to be a great success.

Tickets can be purchased from a number of Tourist Information Centres or call the hotline on 01308 424901 or visit the website at www.jurassicfields.com

Mitch is a stand-up scouse comedian, novelist, radio presenter, TV personality, and science-fiction enthusiast. The satirizing musical writer and performer of BBC Radio 4's The Now Show, and It's Been a Bad Week for BBC Radio 2, debunks myths and exposes nonsense in this national touring show. He believes in taking an evidence-based approach to life. He's a sceptic - 'but don't take my word for it.' He'll try to convince you of the virtues of his philosophy through his wit, charm and of course a few songs (and a rumoured dance routine!). It's a show that'll make you laugh a lot and think a bit.

The Now Show aside, Mitch has recently co-presented with Harry Shearer BBC Radio 2's 'Anatomy Of A Guitar' as well performing 'Mitch Benn Is The 37th Beatle' and presenting 'Spank The Plank' both for BBC Radio 4. An occasional series where Mitch takes his unique and quirky look at a few more rock icons has been commissioned by Radio 4 for 2015.

The Ben Waters Band bring boogie woogie rock 'n' roll to Marine Theatre DESCRIBED by Jools Holland as 'one of my favourite bands', the Marine Theatre excitedly welcomes The Ben Waters Band Rock'n'Roll Piano, with special guests, through its doors on Friday, June 19th.

Jools Holland asked him to perform at his wedding, he performed at a birthday party for Hugh Laurie, and Ben and his band have played at countless prestigious weddings and corporate events all over the world, bringing their own amazing and original version of authentic rock'n'roll to the party.

Ben and his band have also performed for royalty and have toured world-wide, including Canada, Europe, Scandinavia and the States, where Ben played in the Lincoln Center and on Broadway in New York with the ABC&D of Boogie Woogie. (The A being Axel Zwingenberger; B - Ben Waters; C - Charlie Watts; D - Dave Green).

Ben performed at the Royal Albert Hall on 1st November 2013 alongside Ronnie Wood at the fabulous Blues Fest, and his band were selected by Ray Davies as one of his favourites, when Davies curated the wonderful Meltdown Festival at the Royal Festival Hall 60th Anniversary.

He has had a remarkable apprenticeship, having worked and recorded with many of the legendary greats of the rock'n'roll generation - The Rolling Stones, Chuck Berry, Jerry Lee Lewis, Shakin' Stevens, Jools Holland, Ray Davies and many others. Ben and Tom played on Broadway, New York last summer at the iconic Les Paul's Iridium Club, and have just returned from a phenomenally successful tour of Singapore, Australia and New Zealand.

Ben recorded his album 'Boogie for Stu' at Jools Holland's studio (which Jools donated freely) - a commemorative album in honour of the late Ian Stewart, family friend and founder of The Rolling Stones, all of whom, along with Jools and P-J Harvey are featured in the CD. It has topped blues and rock'n'roll charts world-wide since going on sale, with proceeds from sales and Ben's advance going to the British Heart Foundation in Stu's memory. The CD cover painting of Ian Stewart was created by Sir Peter Blake who has donated a further £10,000 from print sales to the BHF in memory of Stu.

The Ben Waters Band play at the Marine Theatre, Lyme Regis this Friday, June 19th. Doors open 7.15pm with music from 8pm.

Tickets are £14, or £12 concessions. To book tickets, contact TIC on 01297 442138 or visit www.marinetheatre.com

Manor Yard at Symondsburry Estate, a great place to eat and shop!

FOUR years ago Manor Yard was a somewhat dishevelled Grade II listed 18th Century stables and barn in the centre of the village of Symondsburry. Now after major renovation it has been transformed into a stunning and magical venue along with a café "Symondsburry Kitchen".

The Old Milking Shed to the right of the yard is now operating as Symondsburry Kitchen – a recently renovated state of the art café, with view of Colmers Hill when seated outside. The café is open seven days a week, from 9am – 5pm, with offers on freshly prepared breakfast, lunch, and afternoon teas. They are also open for dinner every Friday night from 7pm. From the 27th June they will be opening on Saturday evenings from 7pm offering curry dishes from around the world for just £10 per person.

The food served in the café is all locally sourced as you'd expect, with the vegetables and salad leaves from their very own Symondsburry Estate garden. They use a range of local suppliers for everything else, even down to the tea to quench your afternoon thirst coming from the fabulous Clipper and Dorset Tea.

A lot of the wonderful local produce from Symondsburry that is used at Symondsburry Kitchen is also available to buy at Symondsburry Store, which has recently been extended and is situated next to the Estate office in Manor Yard. The store is now selling beautiful local Symondsburry Lamb, as well as loads of other home-grown produce from Symondsburry and lots of local gifts.

However, it's not all about the food at Symondsburry Estate, they also hold a number of great events, courses and special activities through the year.

Next month, on Saturday 25th July, Symondsburry Store is playing host to a 'Meet the Producer' event from 10am – 2pm, with lots of tasting available for delicious locally produced cheese, cider, ale, wine, vegetables, cakes, preserves and much more!

Beyond Cragporth Rock - A Rollercoaster Ride of Bleak Laughs and Horror

BEYOND Cragporth Rock invites the audience to join a rollercoaster ride of bleak laughs and horror. The lights rise upon a bizarre sprawl of bodies. Six sisters, living in a ramshackle cottage on the edge of an eroding cliff, explain differing versions of their total demise. Beyond the four walls in which they live lies a nightmarish, futuristic world plunged into dystopia by an economic crisis that has broken down societal structures. Afraid of the outside, the sisters live in constant fear of faceless foes and unspecified attacks. Here we find them ten years later, fresh risen from their own deaths to tell their bizarre, back-to-front story.

Haste Theatre in collaboration with director Ally Cologna create a heightened microcosm of humdrum family life put under intolerable pressure. With six highly individual, beleaguered characters playing games of mutually destructive intent, this black comedy ticks away to a terrible, tense finale.

Haste Theatre is an award winning company of multi-talented international performers who bring stories to life through their vibrant and individual style. In their shows derived from the European Tradition of physical theatre, Haste draw upon clown, physical storytelling, dance, chorus and live music to bring you an experience that will make you laugh and weep. They are able to create new and original work that is light and humorous in nature, yet remains grounded in questions of humanity and current society. Haste has toured in both Europe and America over the past two years and has recently been selected for the Ideas Tap/New Diorama Emerging Artist Graduate Programme. They are now touring in the UK to reach wider audiences in the country where they are based.

A nerve-jangling, one-act tour de force, Beyond Cragporth Rock comes with a cappella harmonies, clashing egos, murder and a few surprises along the way...

Beyond Cragporth Rock comes to Bridport Arts Centre on Saturday, June 20th at 8pm. Tickets are £12, or £8 Concessions available by calling 01308 424204 www.bridport-arts.com

A Song For Paul 3

"I WAS IN Ocean Bathrooms one day about six years ago when a tall young man breezed in, had a good look around the showroom and then introduced himself as a bathroom fitter who had just moved down from London", says Rob Mühl. "After showing me his bathroom portfolio he asked if I had any work to give him. This was my first meeting with Paul.

"I liked his easy manner, confident but unassuming and after speaking to my colleagues decided to give him a bathroom project.

"Several years and many bathroom projects later he endeared himself to all the people he fitted bathrooms for and to all of us at Ocean Bathrooms.

"He was always thorough and diligent and all of his clients liked and respected that.

"So as you can imagine it came as a huge shock to me and to all of us at Ocean Bathrooms who worked with Paul over the years to learn that he was diagnosed with terminal cancer.

"Our first thought: 'He is so young'.

Rob continues: "All of us at Ocean agreed we wanted to do something, so we launched into 'A Song for Paul'.

"Sharon invited all her singing friends to sing in a concert and all the staff and friends baked pink cakes, dressed in pink and went mad to earn a lot of money, which originally was for a new computer for Paul and some games.

"Unfortunately a few days before the first concert Paul died but he had left instructions for us to carry on and raise money for the Weldmar hospice Trust and Julia's house. Last year we did the same event again with a massive raffle, more cakes and Adam Gale spent the day riding a static bike for the whole day without getting off even for a toilet break and earned us a huge amount of money. Over £3,500 has been raised so far in the last two "A song For Paul" concerts."

◆ Ocean Bathrooms car park will be hosting 'A Song for Paul 3' on Saturday, June 27th 2015. Everyone is most welcome

This will be a live performance from local musicians from 10am 'til 4.30pm

Featuring live music from Shiraz, Fragments, Acoustic Rooster, Branded Men, Barn Street Tinkers Cuss and Gertrude's Golden Gaelic Gherkins. Plus Adam Gale on static bike, Cake and savoury stalls, Book and bric-a-brac stalls, Raffle with great prizes.

Your Very Own Portrait

Val Hall has a special offer. She will paint 10x12 on canvas portrait for £70.00 donating all money to "A Song For Paul" Only 1 lucky offer.

All in the Ocean Bathroom and Tile and Stone Centre car park

A music session will be taking place in the Ropemakers pub from 11am 'til 3. An open invitation is extended to all those who would like to sing or play. email Sharon.muhl@ocean-bathrooms.com

Phil Wright and friends will come and show their classic bikes in Oxenbury's forecourt opposite Ocean Bathrooms

If you would like to offer a prize for the raffle or bake a cake please call in by Friday 26th June. All will be gratefully received.

Mark Thomas presents TRESPASS

An Edinburgh Fringe Preview Show in Dorchester

TRESPASS carries on from where Mark's previous show, 100 Acts of Minor Dissent, left off. It is his usual odd combination of theatre, stand-up, a dash of journalism, activism and a dollop of mayhem, which he will be performing at Dorchester Corn Exchange on Thursday, July 16th.

His career can be summarised in a variety of numbers; 29 years performing comedy, 6 series of his comedy show and 3 dispatches for Channel 4, he has written 4 books, won 6 awards for both his comedy and human rights work, and he has taken the police to court 3 times – winning twice. The third is on going.

In this new pre-fringe warm up tour Mark asks the question: If the ramblers of the 1930s were here now what would they do to open up the cities? How do we turn the skyscrapers and corporate squares into our playgrounds?

It is quite theatrical but then again Mark is interdisciplinary working between performance art and comedy. According to him, he doesn't care if it sounds pretentious.

Over the past few years, comedy acts such as Mark Thomas and plenty of his contemporaries seem to have become a winning formula for the people of Dorchester, with consistently sold-out shows.

No one knows where this show is going to end up so join him for the journey as he sets out to try and carve a small space in the urban world where mischief and random chance can lurk.

Catch Mark Thomas on Thursday, July 16th at Dorchester Corn Exchange 8pm (doors & bar: 7.30pm) - Tickets: £10. To book tickets, call Dorchester Arts box office on 01305 266926 or visit the website at dorchester-arts.org.uk.

Oh What a Night with The New Jersey Boys!

FOLLOWING their recent sell out show at the Exchange Sturminster Newton and at other venues across the West Country, the New Jersey Boys will be on stage at the Corn Exchange Dorchester on Friday, June 26th with their highly acclaimed show which celebrates the music of Frankie Valli and the Four Seasons. Tickets are selling fast for Oh What a Night! which features such great songs as Sherry, Big Girls Don't Cry, Walk Like a Man and much more. Recognising the enormous appeal of the Jersey boys phenomenon and five decades of hits, the New Jersey Boys from Cornwall have worked hard to put their own stamp on a show which is playing to capacity audiences and standing ovations everywhere.

The newly choreographed presentation is a clever mixture of tight vocal harmonies, superb solo spots and light comedy. Einar Vestman, from Iceland, is a unique performer who speaks six languages. He has an amazing vocal range with the ability to ease into falsetto whilst all round entertainer Gary Gould excels at tongue in cheek humour keeping the show moving at an exciting pace. All in all this is an unmissable evening of musical entertainment.

The New Jersey Boys play at the Corn Exchange, Dorchester on Friday, June 26th at 8pm.

Tickets are £14.50 (unreserved) from Dorchester TIC 01305 267992, Bridport TIC 01305 424901 and www.wegotickets.com

To win a pair of tickets to see The New Jersey Boys in Dorchester, just answer the following question:

What is the name of the Four Seasons' frontman?

Send your answer along with a contact telephone number by post to:

Dorset's own Jurassic World

JURASSIC WORLD has been released this weekend – and if you've enjoyed the record breaking film, now come and see the enormous 150million year old skull bones of the Weymouth Bay Pliosaur at Dorset County Museum!

The fossil bones of this pliosaur skull were recovered by amateur fossil collector Kevan Sheehan between 2003 and 2008, as they were washed out of a landslide on the coast in Weymouth Bay. The largest piece weighed over 80 kg, and the skull itself is a massive 2.4 metres long. Featured recently as one of National Geographic's Top 10 Biggest Beasts, the pliosaur was the 'T Rex of the ocean', an 18metre long ferocious predator of the seas. Known as 'The World's Biggest Bite', the Weymouth Bay Pliosaur would have been capable of biting the biggest great white shark alive today clean in half.

The Dorset specimen is one of the most complete and best preserved skulls ever found, and as a result it has provided new insights into our understanding of how these enormous animals evolved.

Since its discovery, hundreds of hours have been spent carrying out a detailed analysis and cleaning away the rock to expose the detail of the fossil underneath. Alongside this conservation work an intensive programme involved the Jurassic Coast team and Dorset County Museum working together to produce an exciting, interactive display showcasing the fossil with the theme 'The World's Biggest Bite'. Mounted dramatically on a specially constructed plinth that shows the jaws in an awe-inspiring open-mouthed position, the story of the fossil is interpreted through a series of film presentations accompanied by a life-size model of the pliosaur's head.

Dr Jon Murden, Director said "It's amazing to see this skull up close in the Museum – standing next to it you can really appreciate its enormous size, and get a feel for the terrifying predator it once was."

HOME FIT FOR A KING!

HOLLOWAY

POUNDBURY on the outskirts of Dorchester provides the opportunity to live in a style if not fit for a king, then certainly approved of by Prince Charles.

The development, built on Duchy of Cornwall land, is inspired by the heir to the throne's love of traditional architecture, and is a highly desirable place to live.

Now leading property experts Greenslade Taylor Hunt are offering a three-bedroom home on the sought-after site for £1,175 per calendar month. Tenant Fees Apply; £216.00 application fee. £96.00 for each additional applicant or guarantor. £90.00 termination check out fee. £276.00 early termination fee (only with Landlords prior consent). All charges inclusive of VAT.

The superb end of terrace house at Tinten Lane is available unfurnished and is conveniently situated for local amenities. It is arranged over three floors and includes a master bedroom with ensuite shower room, two other bedrooms, family bathroom, living room, kitchen, separate dining room and cloakroom. The property also benefits from a garage and gas central heating.

The rear garden is lawned and there is a patio area with shrubs and flower borders. In addition there is a garage and hard-standing parking area.

The appealing property would suit a wide range of prospective tenants from retired people to those with families.

For more information and to arrange a viewing please contact Greenslade Taylor Hunt, 45 High West Street, Dorchester, or call (01305) 268786.

BUSY LANDLORDS WORKSHOPS AT SYMONDS & SAMPSON PROVIDING LEGAL KNOWLEDGE AND BUY TO LET ADVICE

RACHAEL James, Head of Lettings has hosted three Landlord's Workshops over the last month throughout the region from Axminster in Devon, Poundbury Dorset and Yeovil Somerset.

"We were delighted with the turnout, it was so interesting to meet such a wide variety of enquiries. They ranged from buy to let investors where we gave advice on properties to buy that would attract the right tenants, to concerned Landlords wishing to be advised on the new legislation the private rental sector has been bombarded with recently.

We have had to completely change our legal documents and advise our landlords of the fundamental changes to the law and their obligations. There are so many landlords managing their own properties without the knowledge that can affect possession procedures. We pride ourselves on ensuring all our lettings staff obtain ARLA (Association of Residential Lettings Agents) qualifications so that they are in a position to give our landlords and tenants the most up to date advice.

This is why at Symonds and Sampson, we have decided to provide this information by organising regular Landlord's workshops throughout our 12 offices. For forthcoming events or indeed, a personal meeting, please contact Rachael James on 01258 458473 or email rjames@symondsandsampson.co.uk

The Standard for Luxury, Design and Dynamics

▲ The new 2016 model year Jaguar XJ Autobiography

THE XJ, Jaguar's all-aluminium luxury saloon, is more desirable than ever.

Subtle changes to the exterior design, accentuated by full LED headlights, add to the XJ's already distinctive looks. Materials such as semi-aniline leather and inlay veneers enhance an interior already considered the most luxurious in the segment, culminating in the new Autobiography model.

Matching this traditional craftsmanship is state-of-the-art technology, including a new infotainment system. InControl Touch Pro offers features such as door-to-door navigation and 1,300W Meridian digital audio system.

The driving experience is better than ever, thanks to a V6 diesel engine which offers more power and torque and less fuel consumption and CO2 emissions, and an electric power-assisted steering system that enhances Jaguar's reputation for unrivalled agility and responsiveness.

Range summary

The new Jaguar XJ range will consist of: XJ Luxury, XJ Premium Luxury, XJ Portfolio, XJ R-Sport, XJR, XJ Autobiography.

The powertrain range will consist of: 300PS 3.0-litre V6 diesel automatic; 340PS 3.0-litre V6 petrol automatic; 510 and 550PS 5.0-litre V8 petrol automatic.

Alongside the F-TYPE sports car and all-new XF saloon, the XJ is manufactured at Jaguar Land Rover's Castle Bromwich Plant.

The petrol engines: Powerful, refined,

and efficient

The new XJ also offers the familiar range of all-aluminium V6 and V8 petrol engines. All feature direct injection, variable valve timing, forced induction and intelligent stop-start systems to deliver high performance with remarkable efficiency.

The 3.0-litre supercharged V6 develops 340PS/450Nm and is available with rear- and all-wheel drive. Characterised by its linear power delivery and free-revving nature, this remarkable engine also delivers a unique soundtrack thanks to meticulously-tuned intake and exhaust systems.

The top engine option remains the 5.0-litre V8. Offered in 510PS/625Nm and 550PS/680Nm ratings, this exceptional engine delivers all of the performance promised by the XJ's dramatic styling.

Selecting the best: Eight-speed automatic transmissions

All powertrains feature a specifically-optimised eight-speed automatic from ZF. Each has been developed to provide the perfect balance of unrivalled launch performance, shift comfort, dynamics and efficiency.

All the best connections: The always-on XJ

The new XJ is the latest Jaguar to offer InControl Apps, an innovative, intuitive technology that enables customers to seamlessly connect Apple and Android smartphones to the vehicle's infotainment system, via a USB cable. InControl Apps provides access to compatible apps on the device using the vehicle's touchscreen.

Remote Essentials, accessed through the InControl Remote App, enables customers to connect with the new XJ using their smartphone, so they can check how much fuel is in the tank, whether the doors are locked and if the windows were left open.

Remote Premium, also accessed using the InControl Remote App, does even more, enabling the driver to remotely lock or unlock the car and receive alerts if the alarm goes off. Should the driver forget where the car is parked there's a map to lead them straight to it.

Remote Premium can also enable the driver to bring the cabin to a pre-set temperature by remotely starting the engine using their smartphone: at the press of a button the climate control system can heat or cool the interior to the desired temperature.

Using the vehicle's antenna for the strongest, most reliable signal, the new XJ can function as a Wi-Fi hotspot, providing connection for up to eight devices.

InControl Secure provides proactive vehicle monitoring: should the new XJ be stolen, the tracking service will work with law enforcement agencies to locate and recover the car as quickly as possible.

Should the car be involved in a collision severe enough to trigger the airbags, InControl Protect will automatically notify the emergency services and provide the vehicle's GPS location. Occupants can also trigger an emergency call manually simply by pressing a button.

Toyota Aygo: Pure X-Citement

FASHION never stands still and it's in that spirit that Toyota is bringing two new box-fresh versions of its Aygo city car to the road this summer, each making an individual style statement.

Aygo x-cite

The updated x-cite follows the theme set by the original x-cite model, replacing the vibrant Orange Twist paintwork with bright Cyan Splash. The blue metallic bodywork strikes a strong contrast with gloss black custom features, including 15-inch twin-spoke alloy wheels, door mirror casings, front X, front pillar extensions and rear bumper inserts.

The theme is carried through to the cabin where the Cyan Blue shade is featured on the air vent surrounds and carpet mat edging. The seats are finished in dark grey with contrasting blue and light grey bolsters and the centre console and gear shift surround are gleaming gloss black.

For even more street-impact, customers can opt for the bi-tone version of x-cite, which adds metallic black painted roof and front and rear pillars, plus rear privacy glass for an additional £395.

Looks are not the only attraction: x-cite is equipped with the x-touch multimedia system, including Bluetooth and DAB, and a reversing camera. Standard equipment also runs to air conditioning, power-adjustable heated door mirrors, driver's seat height adjustment, split-folding rear seats, leather steering wheel and gear knob trim, front fog lights and LED daytime running lights, Safety provisions include six airbags ABS with emergency brake distribution, vehicle stability control and a tyre pressure warning system.

Three and five door versions are available, powered by Toyota's three-cylinder 1.0-litre engine with manual or automatic x-shift transmission. Proving that something stylish can be affordable and practical too, both x-cite and x-pure deliver combined cycle fuel economy from 68.9mpg and CO2 emissions from 95g/km – below the 100g/km threshold for annual VED (road tax).

Aygo x-pure

White and silver are the colour co-ordinates for the new Aygo x-pure. On the outside the White Flash paintwork is teamed with rear privacy glass, white-painted alloys and silver-finished bodywork elements. Inside, the standard grey seat fabric is accompanied by white and light grey bolsters. The centre console and gear shift surround follow the trend with a silver-white finish.

In terms of equipment specifications, body styles and powertrains, the x-pure provides the same features and choices as the x-cite, apart from the bi-tone package.

Prestige, Comfort and Efficiency

The new Toyota Avensis aims to make things easy for the customer, with new style, new engines and innovative technology. Regardless of version or equipment grade, it is designed to be prestigious and trustworthy. Designed and engineered in Europe and built exclusively in Britain, more than 1,711,800 Avensis across four model generations have appeared on European roads since the original was launched at the end of 1997.

Quality durability and reliability have always been among Avensis's strongest suits, reflected in the current model achieving consistently high QDR ratings and the highest score in last year's J.D. Power Vehicle Owner-Satisfaction Survey in Germany.

Although Avensis has traditionally appealed to private customers, it's the fleet market that easily commands the largest proportion of sales, accounting for 75 per cent of D-segment business in Europe.

Responding to private customers' demands for prestige, luxury and elegance, and user-chooser motorists' desire for sportiness, dynamism and a dash of chic, the new 2015 Avensis has been designed to deliver significant improvements.

STYLING

Both the new Avensis saloon and Touring Sports wagon have a more distinctive and dynamic appearance, generated by a new Energetic Elegance design theme.

Overall vehicle length has been increased by 40mm and at the front there is a strong new look that marks a "second generation" evolution of Toyota's contemporary design language.

The Toyota emblem is set more prominently within a smaller but sharper-styled upper grille. The grille itself has a chrome trim bar which anchors new LED headlamp clusters. These incorporate LED daytime running lights, giving new Avensis an individual illumination signature.

The lower grille has been made significantly larger and it spans a centre bumper section finished in gloss black, reinforcing Avensis's solid front stance. In conjunction with the downward sweep of the new grille, the fog lamp housings have been pushed out to the far edges of the bumper, making the vehicle appear broader.

To the side, a new garnish along the sill creates a strong horizontal emphasis, giving the impression of a lower centre of gravity. The more elegant profile is supported by new alloy wheel designs.

The rear of the vehicle has also been designed to add elegance and impact to the broad road stance. The rear light clusters use LED light guide technology to generate a high-tech lighting signature.

Weymouth Basketball

Tropics undefeated

FRESH from their end of season presentation, Weymouth College Tropics still had work to do to complete a perfect season as they travelled to Southampton in their final league games of the season with only a limited eight-man roster.

Gosport Scorpions 40 Weymouth College Tropics 51

TROPICS squared off against a tough Gosport team who despite not having the most successful season, seem to be able to give the top teams a run for their money.

This game was no different as, despite their lofty position, Weymouth were unable to find their rhythm through much of the first half as the game stayed within five points.

It was a half time talk by coach Alex Fuhrmann that refocused his over confident charges that gave them the spark to strike back and, led by an impressive offensive outing from Jerry Thompson, they gained a double digit lead to eventually win 51-40.

Tres Barrilles 21 Weymouth College Tropics 65

IT was a different Weymouth team in the second game as they converted multiple layups and smothered their opponents with a full court press.

Rev Santos and Derek Marquez combined for an impressive 10-0 run that reminded all spectating teams that Weymouth were going in to the playoff as favourites for good reason.

The Tropics were quick to rotate their limited team as their Portsmouth opponents could only watch as dual point guards Max Gilmartin and Bruce Fiorentino were near unstoppable in their fast break offence.

As the lead was stretched, Weymouth were able to slow the pace and roll to an impressive 65-21 win.

Fuhrmann said: "It was great to see the lads finish the season undefeated and show why Weymouth Basketball is earning the respect of the local league affiliates."

"I am however worried that our half court sets have suffered, and players have become disconnected from our "smart basketball" options."

"We have three weeks to prepare, so am hoping we can continue our run into the play-offs."

Roster: Jerry Thompson, Max Gilmartin, Kim De Leon, Luke Strong, Matt Chubb, Bruce Fiorentino, Rev Santos, Derek Marquez.

Athletics

Blake cheered by reversal

REIGNING 800m IPC World Champion Paul Blake was delighted with the news that the event has been included in next year's Paralympic Games 2016 in Rio.

The 25-year old Dorchester athlete was disappointed that the Olympic committee ditched the event after London 2012 where he took bronze.

But after some fierce lobbying particularly from Paralympic Head Coach Paula Dunne, the decision was reversed to include the T36 event at the expense of the women's T45/46 marathon.

Speaking to View Sport, Blake said: "I got word a couple of weeks ago that it might be included, although it has been in debate for some time before they finally decided to reintroduce it."

Following the original decision, Blake turned his attention to the 100m as a second discipline at Rio alongside the 400m in which he won silver in both the London Olympics, and the IPC World Championships in Swansea last year.

Although not his favourite distance he has had success at the spring distance, winning bronze in Swansea, and last weekend clocked 12.82 seconds when finishing runner-up to Malaysia's Mohamad Puzi at the Italian Open Championships in Grosseto.

However with the reintroduction of the 800m, Blake is hoping to drop the 100m and once again concentrate on his two favoured distances.

"I've been back in training at 800m for a couple of months and will be looking to post a qualifying time this week for the World Championships in Doha in October to see where I'm at."

"I am absolutely delighted it has been reinstated because I think I can do a lot more damage over the 800m, and I will be interested to see what times my old rivals have posted to see where I stand."

Dorchester Rugby Club

Dorchester RFC launch 'Rugbyathon'

WITH 100 days to go, Dorchester Rugby Club officially launched their charity fundraiser last week which was attended, by club members, officials, charity partner's sponsors and local dignitaries.

Rugbyathon is an official Festival of Rugby Event and will be a two-day event starting on Friday September 11th to celebrate everything that is great about the wonderful game of rugby.

A presentation was given at the launch outlining the background to the event and how it came about earlier this year, since when it has grown in size and ambition.

Whilst it provides an opportunity to raise funds for the club, the organisers have decided to support the following charities: Julia's House Hospice, The Wooden Spoon Society, The Matt Hampson Trust, The Dorset & Somerset Air Ambulance and Ducks and Drakes; a good mixture of local and national charities.

Over the two days there will be a large number of events held; the main feature being the clubs attempt to set a world record for the largest number of participants in a continual game of rugby.

Starting on the Friday afternoon with a Dorchester XV against a Wooden Spoon Invitational XV, it will also involve all age grade sides of the club culminating in the 1st XV on the Saturday afternoon competing in what will be their first home league game of the 2015-16 season.

Other attractions include a cider and sausage festival and live music on the Friday evening, and on Saturday children's entertainment including circus events, rugby taster sessions, a Rugbyathon bake off contest, and a charity black tie ball which will be compered by Scott Bemand, the former Bath Harlequins and Leicester scrum-half who helps coach Dorchester RFC Under 10s.

Guest speakers include George Chuter (Leicester & England) and Peter Short (Bath & Exeter Chiefs).

Chairman of the organising committee Martin Bartlett said: "We have set ourselves a very ambitious challenge which I am confident we will achieve."

"I would like to thank all those that have helped so far, in particular our chosen charities and sponsors who have been very supportive."

"We are always looking for more volunteers so if anyone wants to be involved please let the club know"

More information can be found at www.rugbyathon.co.uk and on Facebook by searching rugbyathon.

Long day ahead

◆ CHALLENGE ACCEPTED: Four members of Portland's Eight Kings Golf Society, who have already raised over £3,500 for the Macmillan Cancer Trust, will be aiming to break the £4,000 barrier when they play a gruelling 72 holes at Weymouth Golf Club on the longest day of the year this Sunday (June 21st) starting at 5am and hoping to finish by nightfall.

Special thanks go to Sea-NC Engineering Ltd. Portland, The Star Inn Portland, Nicky's Taxis, Lamming and Sons, Builders and Weymouth Golf Club for their support and sponsorship.

◆ COUNTDOWN: Let's get the show on the road is the message from all involved in Dorchester Rugby Club's Rugbyathon

Dependable batting sees Dorchester take title

West Dorset Cricket under 15s Cup Final

Dorchester 113-5 beat Weymouth 93-6 by 20 runs

A LARGE crowd gathered at Redlands to witness a thrilling encounter between two teams who put on a great advert for local youth cricket, but it was consistent and steady batting that saw Dorchester win through.

Electing to bat, Dorchester got off to a steady start with Z Khan (38 no) and A Peel (7) scoring positively off any thing wayward. Tom Chedzoy (3-0-13-3) whose three wickets included two in the final over, had Peel caught at mid wicket as Weymouth looked to gain the upper hand, but despite a valiant effort in the field, Weymouth's bowlers never got on top, and valuable contributions from D Stevens (14), O Osbourne (12) and Will Morgan (13), who all got out trying to force the pace, enabled Dorchester to close on a competitive 113-5 off their 16 overs.

Weymouth's reply began slowly as the Dorchester opening bowlers Peel (3-0-9-1) and S.Crichell (2-0-7-0) gave very little away and were back up by some excellent fielding.

Weymouth's third wicket partnership between D Webb (37 no) and Joe James (15) kept Weymouth in the game as the required run rate began to mount. With the departure of James, Dorchester tightened their grip on the game, and despite a brave effort, Weymouth fell short of the required total as wickets fell at regular intervals.

Coaches G.Merchant (Weymouth) and Tim Stevens (Dorchester) both agreed the game had highlighted the talent within local cricket, and praised their player's for all their efforts, as well as West Dorset Coach Grant Neven for umpiring the game.

A view from Third Man - The Dorset cricket scene

WITH STUART BROOM

Another miserable day for local top teams

Dorset Funeral Plan League Premier Division

BROADSTONE 155-6 BEAT

DORCHESTER 154 ALL OUT BY 4 WICKETS
DESPITE another defeat for Dorchester, captain Simon Mitchem was once again pleased with his sides efforts and feels they are getting closer to the second victory of the season they deserve.

"We are a very young, inexperienced team, but again I was pleased not only with the team's efforts and attitude.

"The wicket wasn't great, and so I decided to bat and try and set a target of around 200, but some excellent bowling particularly from Simon Trembath had us in trouble."

In fact when Mitchem went to the wicket in the tenth over Trembath (3-25) and Holm (2-13) had reduced the county town to 26-4. With Dan Belt and Dan Morris following quickly that soon became 39-6.

Mitchem who top scored with 38, and Nick Roe (16) added 49 for the seventh wicket before the captain departed, and with some lusty late hitting from Eiron Fitzgerald (23) and George Foot (31), Dorchester reached 154 all out, and at least something for them to defend.

"We bowled very well in reply and never gave up. We played as a team and never gave up which was great, but were ultimately 40 runs short which wasn't far off a winning total."

Things might have been different at the start of Broadstone's reply following a possible run out off the first ball of the innings, and a very strong appeal for a catch behind the wicket off the second ball having been turned down.

"Unfortunately these things go against you when you are down, and it never rains but pours," lamented Mitchem.

Mitchem (1-29) and Foot (3-30) had Broadstone wobbling on 60-, but J Brown (47) and C Tarr steadied the ship to see the hosts home by four wickets.

"George Foot had a very good game with the bat and ball. We are so close to winning; it is a fine line at the moment; But we are performing well consistently and competing, which is good."

MARTINSTOWN 164 ALL OUT LOST TO SHERBORNE 165-4 BY 6 WICKETS

MARTINSTOWN have still to win at Lower Ashton Farm this season after they slumped to their fourth defeat of the campaign against league leaders Sherborne.

Batting first they found themselves in trouble against the excellent bowling of Shane Snater (2-29) and Mark Hancock (2-28) who ripped out the top order to leave their hosts 26-4.

Dave Herbert (35), Ross Stewart (22) and Teddy Andrews (42) staged a middle order recovery and with Tom Nicholls (17) saw Martinstown post 164 all out with 15 overs to spare.

Sherborne went for their shots from the start in reply and at tea were 42-2. The dismissal of Daniel Baker just after the resumption gave Martinstown hope at 49-3.

But a 74 run fourth wicket stand between the aggressive Snater (69no) and Emlyn Kuhn (31), ended when Andrews bowled the latter with a "Jaffa", set up an easy victory with 20 overs to spare.

Captain Ed Nichols admitted his side were not really in the game after their disastrous start, and called for his side to use all their allocated overs.

"The middle order rescued us, but 164 was never going to be enough, but we need to ensure we bat out our overs. Teddy Andrews was playing his first game of the season for us, and he looked in good nick with both bat and ball. He's only 17, but is at Millfield where he has come on in leaps and bounds.

"Unfortunately Sherborne attacked our spin early on and were particularly harsh on Liam Banfield, and in the end there was nothing we could do."

SWANAGE 346 ALL OUT BEAT

WEYMOUTH 137 ALL OUT BY 209 RUNS

WEYMOUTH were soundly beaten at The Delph on Saturday to leave them still without a win this season.

Swanage elected to bat first and Mike Salmon (62) and Ricky King (23) put on 95 for the first wicket, but when both fell to Simon Browne (2-42) and Graham Puckett (2-55) and Ryan Norman was bowled by Puckett things appeared to be getting better at 110-3.

However powerful hitting from Ian Booth with 14 fours and a six in his 128, and Ben Baczala (11 fours in his 60) in a stand of 110 saw Swanage accelerate away as they amassed 346 all out with Alex Mortimore (3-94) and Harry Mitchell (2-47) also amongst the wicket.

Tony Quayle at the top of the innings dug in for a battling 34 before being fifth out, but with only Kieron Womble (14) and Mortimore (16) reaching double figures, Weymouth were dismissed for 137 with 52 "Extras" top scoring.

WITCHAMPTON 102 ALL OUT LOST TO

CATTISTOCK 166 ALL OUT BY 64 RUNS

CATTISTOCK had a fairly comfortable win despite being bowled out for 166 after Martin Langford (33) and Jon Legg (38) had put on 80 for the first wicket.

Only Mike White (19) and Ben Gollidge (20) offering any real support against the bowling of Ian Broom (4-33).

Witchampton found the opening spell of Bradley Damen (3-14 from 9 overs) and Legg (0-21 from 8 overs) difficult and after 12 overs had struggled to 21-3.

Things didn't improve with first change bowlers Jack Walklett (4-22) and Martin Langford (3-22) finishing Witchampton off, with only Broom (31) and Mark Hayter (17) showing any real resistance.

BEAMINSTER 145 ALL OUT LOST TO POOLE

TOWN 3RD 215-6 BY 70 RUNS

BEAMINSTER succumbed to another defeat after a dire batting display. After being invited to bat, the the Poole openers struggled in the early overs, as both opening bowlers Simon Jones (0-34) and Ross Baker (1-23) caused problems, but crucially three simple catching opportunities were missed in the field.

Poole's innings was built around opener Hai who scored a composed 73, whilst the six wickets were shared among the bowlers, with the highlight being debutant Gavin Gay's two wickets in two balls. Good contributions from four other batsmen helped Poole to set a challenging target of 215-6.

The Beaminster reply started poorly with Zeshan claiming both openers with just 12 on the board, but the middle order comprising Jones (50), Gay (10) and Baker (39) fought hard to stage a recovery.

However wickets continued to fall regularly at the other end with no other batsman recording double figures and the Beaminster innings closed on 145 after Nick Hollely was forced to retire injured with a knee injury.

DORCHESTER 2ND 332-5 BEAT

WAREHAM 105 ALL OUT BY 227 RUNS

DORCHESTER continued their winning ways with a huge win over struggling Wareham who stated with just nine players.

Winning the toss captain Stuart Beasley quite rightly elected to bat and Rhys Cole and Bobby Chawla who found the gaps with ease.

Cole was bowled for 34, and although another Wareham player arrived, Chawla and Malcolm Stroudley (27) both carried on finding the boundary at regular intervals.

Chawla continued in imperious form and although he lost partner Josh Foot (21) caught on the boundary by the Wareham skipper Beasley helped him pass the 200 mark before the opener was out dismissed for a magnificent 124.

Beasley continued the run rout with and unbeaten 85 as Dorchester clocked up 332-5 in their allotted overs.

With a big total to play with, Beasley gave the useful up and coming 14-year old Alex Peel the new ball alongside Pete Horne (2-21). Horne made the breakthrough claiming the first two wickets before Beasley (2-18 from eight) bowled the Wareham top scorer for 32.

Chawla (3-11 from 6.1 overs) claimed a wicket with his first ball, a full toss hit down mid-wicket's throat as they took wickets at regular intervals to dismiss Wareham for 105 all out.

Beasley said: "It was a fantastic win and although by a vast margin a job still had to be done.

"Alex Peel opened the bowling and although unlucky not to get a wicket he only went for 21 and the experience will do him the world of good."

CHARLTON DOWN 150 ALL OUT BEAT

CHALKE VALLEY 38 ALL OUT BY 112 RUNS

CHARLTON Down romped to a 112 run victory over Chalke Valley, where inspired bowling from Matt Stevens claiming his first five wicket haul of the season bowling saw the Wiltshire side bowled out for just 38.

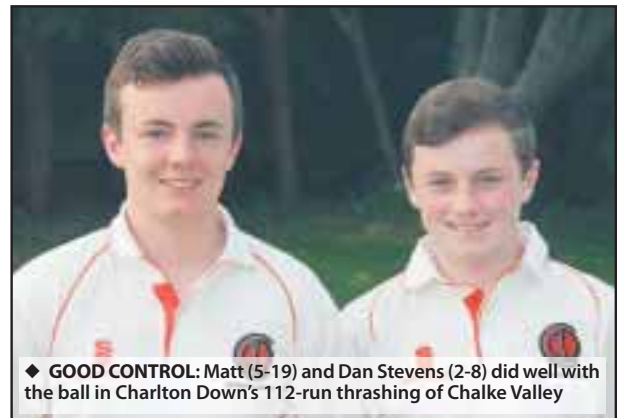

Batting first Charlton Down found it hard to score from the excellent opening spell from Dave White (2-16) who deservedly claimed both openers leg before with the score on 34-2 after 12 overs.

Cameron Lucas and Sam Roles were batting beautifully with some excellent running between the wickets, until a rocket throw from the boundary from James Bundy saw Roles (12) run out with the score on 59-3.

Another blossoming partnership between the impressive Lucas and Matt Stevens was brought to an end with the score on 77-4 when Andy Mercer produced a perfect drifting yorker to remove Stevens (4).

As wickets fell at the other end Lucas (30) was playing cautiously with some exquisite drives through mid off and calculated sweep shots. The reintroduction of Bundy (3-34) saw him take three quick wickets to reduce Charlton Down to 100-7.

All rounder Javed Gill (21) marshalled the lower order with great effect and with Rob Deadman (14), also showing his all round cricketing ability the pair added 20 before Deadman and Dan Stevens (8) added another 30 runs to push the score to 150 and claim the important bonus batting point.

◆ GOOD CONTROL: Matt (5-19) and Dan Stevens (2-8) did well with the ball in Charlton Down's 112-run thrashing of Chalke Valley

It was just left to captain Pete Tucker to run out, 15-year-old Dan Stevens with a poor quick single call!

The Chalke Valley innings was all over in 16 overs after some excellent controlled bowling from the Stevens brothers.

Matt struck with his third ball to remove the dangerous hard hitting captain Andy Mercer, leg before, for a duck, before Dan responded by yorking the stylish Dave Brown in his second over.

Matt then produced the ball of the day when Kev Monaghan was bowled with a ball that pitched and cut back hitting top off stump with the score on 20-3.

This soon became 26-7 as Dan Stevens (2-8) bowled Bundy and Matt Stevens (5-19) struck taking three wickets in an over and just missing out on a hat trick. It was left for Sam Roles (2-9) to snare the last two wickets and ensure an early finish.

Captain Pete Tucker said "Chalke Valley are a good team but our bowling was exceptional from ball one, and the intensity of our fielding brought further pressure.

"Matt and Dan Stevens bowled with great control, and with playing on grass every week rather than every other week is adding another facet to their game.

"Cameron Lucas produced another capable innings at the top of the order to hold the innings together and Rob Deadman showed his all round ability and not just a talented wicketkeeper."

BLANDFORD 2ND 112 ALL OUT LOST TO

MARTINSTOWN 2ND 173-9 BY 61 RUNS

HAVING won the toss Martinstownbatted first, and although Olly Gargrave and Olly Osborne occupied the crease until the drinks break, nullifying what was a pretty sharp opening bowling attack, they only scored 48 runs.

The second half of the innings was therefore a mad dash 20/20 game. Gargrave fell for 45, and there were lively contributions from Laurence West, Grant Neven, Charlie Andrews and John Stewart.

The outstanding innings was Adam Kepple's 48 not out, full of clean hitting and with the solid support of James Pickering at the end was responsible for pushing the innings score up to 173-9.

The Blandford reply was knocked backed by the experience of Tony Jacobs, whose 4-25 accounted for the first four wickets to fall.

Andrews took over at first change and followed from the same end with his own 4-25. Although Pickering was wicketless, his 5 overs cost only 12 run, whilst Stewart (1-25) and Crosthwaite took the final wicket.

There were also two catches for Sean Williams as Blandford were dismissed for 112, 13 runs less than Martinstown had achieved in their second 20 overs assault.

BERE REGIS 2ND 203-7 BEAT BEAMINSTER

2ND 58 ALL OUT BY 145 RUNS

BEAMINSTER found unbeaten league leaders Bere Regis too good despite putting out a fairly strong side.

Batting first, the hosts scored 203-7 in their allotted overs a total which captain Justin Gurd was happy with.

Wickets fell at fairly regular intervals with Murray Legg the pick of the bowlers with 3-23 from eight overs, whilst pacy debutant Vijay B showed encouraging form with 2-43 in a fairly hostile spell.

In reply Beaminster lost Dean Hyett to the third ball of the innings for a duck, and things didn't improve after that with only Leo Gurd with 17 not out getting into double figures, as the visitors were dismissed for just 58 runs.

SYMENE 169 ALL OUT LOST TO

CHESELBOURNE 270-8 BY 101 RUNS

OPENER Ed Nicholls tore the Symene attack to pieces as he helped Cheselbourne to 270-8 with a superb 142 at Symondsbury.

Although Ollie Lee's magnificent spell of 2-12 from eight overs saw him claim the first two wickets, Nicholls was pretty severe on most of the other home bowlers although Kevin Pragnell claimed 4-59 from his six overs, and with Rob Wallis (34) and Charlie Lee (22) chipping in with useful contributions, they left Symene a lot to do.

Things however didn't look too bad as Jon Legg (41) shared stands with Lee (12) and Phil Hawkins that saw the hosts reach three figures for the loss of just one wicket.

However Mark Bagwell's dismissal of Legg saw Symene collapse, and with no others able to reach double figures, Hawkins gritty 60 was wasted as Lee (4-25) and Chris Ascott (3-22) saw Symene dismissed for just 169 all out.

WEST CHINNOCK 194 ALL OUT BEAT

BROADWINDSOR 158 ALL OUT BY 36 RUNS

IT was a bad day at the office for Broadwindsor that saw them go down by 36 runs at West Chinnock.

The hosts won the toss and with Broadwindsor two players short at the start due to work commitments, they rightly decided to bat first.

By the time they arrived after 15 overs, C Hayes had taken advantage to top score with 48, and with catches going to ground and bowling 53 extras, Broadwindsor were happy to restrict their opponents to 194 all out.

The wickets were shared around between Ross Baker (2-29), Ade Phillips (2-31), Adam Herring (2-27) and Chris Park (2-38).

Unfortunately things did not improve greatly in reply with only Baker (37) and Park (34) showing any form, and with young bowler Alex Eckland taking 3-10 from his eight overs, Broadwindsor were dismissed for 158 all out.

Bridport Football Partnership

New chairman's priority to improve facilities

BRIDPORT Football Partnership's new chairman David Leader has highlighted the need to improve football facilities in the area following his election to succeed the retiring Geoff Joy at the BFP's recent Annual General Meeting.

Mr Joy had announced his intention of retiring at the organisation's quarterly meeting prior to the AGM, at which Leader had expressed an interest in the post, which as a result he was duly elected.

Talking exclusively to the View From, Mr Leader who is also Bridport Youth manager said: "As the new chairman of the Bridport Football Partnership I hope in some small way to carry on the great work the partnership have done over the years.

"One of the burning issues for us is to establish further pitches and an all weather training facility for the town and the surrounding area, and we will be working flat out to try and move this forward.

"Football in the area has never been more popular, and it is wonderful to see so many people playing and to have such a thriving youth set up.

"Hundreds of young people are playing, and the coaching and opportunities they get through the youth set up are simply outstanding."

Outgoing chairman Joy will remain as an independent member of the committee, but in his last report praised the foresight and vision of BFP founder Derek Cash, as well as highlighting the hard work done by retiring Projects Officer Wayne Causley.

He said: "Derek realised that the separate football clubs would benefit from working together and could improve facilities and standards by the simple act of cooperation.

"Those of you that were involved in local football back in 2004-5 will recall that he did not immediately receive total support for his proposals. However he worked hard to persuade everyone that clubs would benefit from working together off the field and eventually clubs joined the partnership and the major project of providing changing facilities for the town's playing field pitches and Bridport FC commenced. The "Derek Cash pavilion" was constructed in 2008.

He added: "While raising the funding for the pavilion was without doubt the biggest project that the Partnership has undertaken there have been many other notable achievements.

"The Partnership has become a registered charity, increased the number of member clubs, enabled local coaches to obtain qualifications and provided a number of football related courses with DCFA.

"It has also resurrected the Edwards Charity Cup which is a competition dating back to pre war years.

"Originally the competition brought the areas junior clubs into contact with the town's senior club so it seems quite fitting that the Partnership has been able to reintroduce it.

"There can be little doubt that the Partnership has had a very positive impact on football in the area, and I am proud to have had the privilege of chairing the group for some nine years."

Of Mr Causley he said: "As with any small organisation there are always a number of individuals who bear the brunt of the work, generally without much recognition. The Partnership has been extremely fortunate to have had Wayne Causley from Charmouth FC on the committee from day one.

"Wayne has been instrumental in most of the successful projects that have been undertaken by the Partnership.

"He has provided professional advice freely and has never objected to jumping into the River

◆ NEW CHAIRMAN: David Leader

Asker to chase plastic ducks when funds were needed to be raised.

"I trust that others that have also served the Partnership tirelessly over the years will not mind me thanking Wayne in this way as he is standing down after tonight's meeting."

He concluded: "I am pleased that the Partnership looks set to continue into the future with a new chairman to be appointed tonight and a new project to focus on.

"The delivery of new pitches, possibly even an artificial one, would be a tremendous asset for the area's football clubs and I know that there is already support from the district and town councils for the idea.

"I would like to thank you all for your support over the years. Please be proud of what we have achieved, I genuinely believe that we have made a difference.

"I wish the Partnership every success in the future."

A written thank you was received from Derek Cash who was unable to attend.

CRAIG Horton prevented Ollie Mears making it a hat-trick of Andy Neal Rover victories when he won West Bay Sea Angling Club's June competition.

Busy Jermyn keeping his powder dry

WHILST he has been very busy signing players to contracts for next season, Dorchester Town manager is staying calm and ensuring he makes the right choices about additions to his squad.

With a limited budget the county town boss is determined to get best value for his money, whilst ensuring he gets people who want to play football, and not those only interested at playing as footballers.

Talking to View Sport he said: "So far we have been getting some very good deals and hence talks with some players are long going affairs.

"With the budget we are not in a position to rush into decisions, and sign someone because they are showing an interest.

"I've spoken to a lot of players, and what surprises me is how one of the first questions, especially from a lot of the young players is how much are you offering.

"I know people need to get the best deal, but some of their requests are crazy and unfounded. Particularly many of the young pro's valuation of themselves is far more than we can afford, or any club I know of."

Many of last season's squad have already committed themselves to The Avenue for the new campaign, the latest being the experienced former Exeter City striker Ben Watson who penned a new on-year deal on Monday.

The 29-year old who rejoined the Magpies in January follows captain Jake Smeeton, goalkeepers Alan Walker-Harris and Shane Murphy, defenders Matt Oldring and Chris Dillon, and midfielder Lewis Morgan.

Still playing

Jermyn and his assistant Nick Crittenden have also signed playing contracts.

Jermyn said: "With the budget we have we both need to be available to play.

"I intend to play throughout the season, with the view that should I be able to replace myself I will, as it will give me more time on the side to see the game from another

by Stuart Broom
stuart@pemediaco.uk

vantage point.

"Nick will also have to play some part, probably more than last year, but neither of us have any issues with playing next season."

Two players have left the club, Jamie Gleeson who has signed for Poole Town, and winger Dan Smith.

Gleeson has spent 11 seasons at Dorchester, and Jermyn said: "We're sad to see him go but it gives other people an opportunity to step up now.

"Next season will be very competitive and so hopefully we will have a bench that are just as capable as those on the field."

To date Jermyn has made two new signings; midfielder Charlie Davis for Poole

Town, and former Magpie Neil Martin.

"They are two players I know. I played with Charlie at Poole and he's a good player and I thought a lot of him. He's a good character with good fitness levels and he wants to prove himself.

"He didn't dwell too much on money, he just wants to play, unlike other players who I have spoken too who are happy to earn more money and sit on the bench.

"You don't get any better sitting on the bench. They're not the kind of player I want at the club, we want people who want to play.

"There are a lot of people who want to call themselves footballers, that don't want to play football.

"I think strength in character is a rarity now, but that is the type of player we are looking for that when times are tough they stick together.

"That's why we are being very choosy and trying to spend our money wisely. Neil Martin is a typical example, and you could see how pleased he was to be back when he came down to the ground."

There are still five players who were with Dorchester last season that the club are still in discussions with.

Nathan Walker and Sam Lanahan are still considering offers, whilst Bradley Tarbuck and Mark Irvine are still hoping to find a full-time professional club after being released by Portsmouth and Southampton respectively, but are still very much on Jermyn's radar.

Lewis Horsborough, who joined late in the season, will be returning for pre-season training.

Sibbick on back-burner

Jermyn confirmed that he held talks with Larkhall's prolific striker Tyler Sibbick, and although they agreed terms, living in the Bath area meant he was unable to commit fully to training, but they have agreed to keep in touch should the situation change.
